Chris,

we've had a great time this year together. I'll never forget the good times we've had like at m's'ness, all state and Saint Petersburg. wish you all the luck in the world

Dear Chris, Buddy
I guess it's kinda hard to like my father, isn't it? I know you'll never forget him though.
You're a real sweet boy and best of luck in everything.
Love ya,
Carol

Chris,

if you would understand
Chemistry as well as you do the I'd like you be a scientist. Good luck next year in the band and/or our trips
Arthur

"To every thing there is a season." The farmer first recognizes the advent of a new year when the fleeting days of autumn are replaced by the serene quietness of Winter. The time has come, as in days of old, for the gathering of the best seeds and the tedious sowing of the grains from which will spring forth the fruits of tomorrow. So begins the struggle for survival—until Spring, with its radiant beauty, shines forth the first beams of life-giving light. Flowers bloom, saplings sprout, and Nature begins to fulfill her eternal promise. Clearer evidence of this promise is seen as Summer approaches.

Signs of maturity, which were so clandestine before, are seen in the tender, young ears of corn, in the emerging bolls of fluffy, white cotton, and in the long, full limbs of green shade trees. Yet it is the Autumn that brings forth Nature's true fulfillment. Hay is prepared for the sharp strokes of the farmer's scythe; corn, for the gnarled hand of the laborer; and the plump fruits eager to be plucked from their vines. This is the harvest—a time in which the farmer must look ahead, preparing for the year to come.

So it is here at Bolton—"To every thing there is a season." Our teachers, our books, and our experiences sow the seeds of knowledge and understanding from which will spring the wisdom of the future. The nourishment and growth of the young minds of the sophomores, juniors, and seniors will yield the brave leaders of a bright tomorrow. At Bolton, as in the fields, opportunities to develop fully are offered. Through clubs, an opportunity to develop special interests and talents is provided. Our many sports allow young minds to attain physical fulfillment—fitness, sportsmanship, teamwork. Then, with the coming of the harvest, the very best of Bolton's crop are selected, not to be replanted, but to serve as worthy examples for future generations.

The cycle, from the sowing of seed to the harvest, comprises a year at Bolton. For this reason, we, the '65 Bruin staff, have chosen to bring you the highlights of our school year through the four seasons—"To every thing there is a season."

A Time To Weep,

And A Time To Laugh

A Time To Get,

And A Time To Lose

To Every Thing There Is A Season

A Time To Keep Silence,

And A Time To Speak

To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:

A time to be born, and a time to die;

A time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted;

A time to kill, and a time to heal;

A time to break down, and a time to build up;

A time to weep, and a time to laugh;

A time to mourn, and a time to dance;

A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together;

A time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;

A time to get, and a time to lose;

A time to keep, and a time to cast away;

A time to rend, and a time to sew;

A time to keep silence, and a time to speak;

A time to love, and a time to hate;

A time of war, and a time of peace.

A Season To Plant The Seeds . . .

Through Teachers

Through Experiences

Through Books

Of Knowledge

Winter is the season of contemplation, a time to prepare; a time to plant.

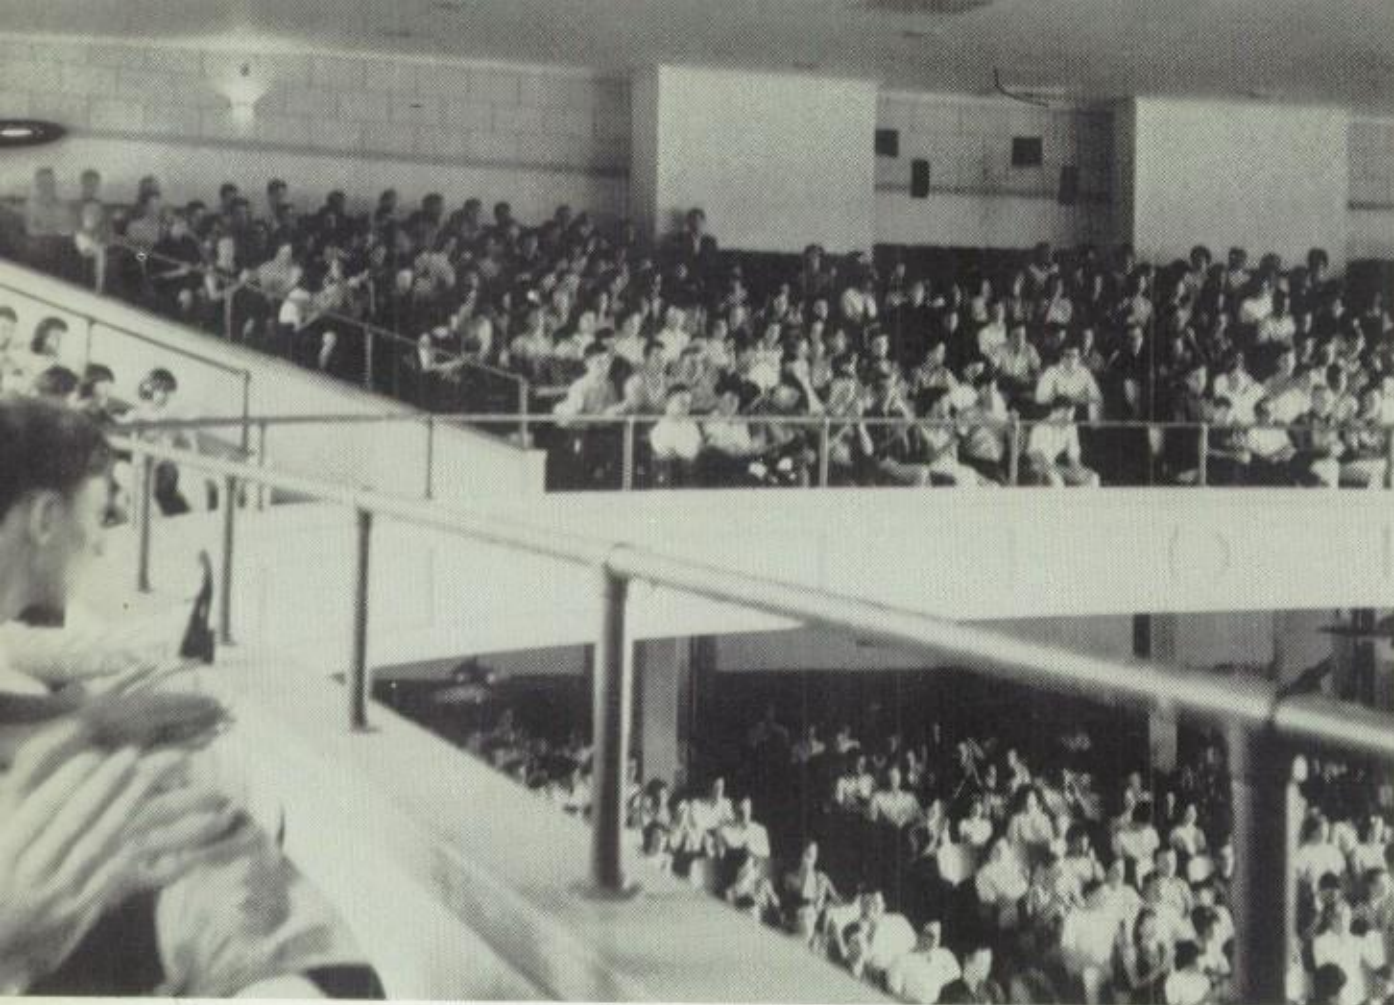

As the wise farmer seeks to plant his grain in fertile soil, so, the experienced hand of the teacher strives to sow the seeds of knowledge. Through the unselfish devotion of our seventy-four qualified educators, each Bolton student is introduced to the idiosyncrasies of grammar, the intrigue of literature, the mysteries of science, the puzzling world of mathematics, and the beauty of the arts.

The Bolton faculty plans the environment in which the student body can best learn, and in doing so, they sow the seeds of knowledge, that each student may mature into a useful citizen of tomorrow.

Through Environment

For Sophomores

For Seniors

For Juniors

A Season Of Growth And Change

In Mind And Body

Bolton's spring ushers in warm rays of golden sunlight, allowing the first signs of growth to appear. This growth is most evident in the individual student, be he senior, junior, or sophomore. Spring reassures us of nature's eternal plan. Signs of spring are seen in the subtle changes of corn stalks, cotton bolls, and tree boughs. In the student, these subtle changes are in the mind and the face.

A Season For Branching

Through Service

Through Fellowship

A time of branching out; a time of maturing growth—this is Bolton's summer season. Summer finds the cotton plant adorned with maturing bolls; the corn, with tender young ears of ripening fruit.

The summer season at Bolton is best exemplified through interests in our forty-four organizations. These groups, each varying in purpose, allow the individual to extend his abilities in special fields.

Through Scholarship

Through Leadership

Through Accomplishment

Through Recognition

Through Teamwork

A Season To Reach Maturity . . .

. . . And A Time To Harvest

Maturity is the keynote of the fall season. The corn is ready to be picked; the cotton ready to be ripped from its stalks. The mature crop is ready to be harvested.

Athletic competition produces maturity in the individual. Participation in varsity sports, as well as class intramurals, has compiled enviable records for Bolton, as well as making Bolton athletics synonymous with teamwork and sportsmanship.

Maturity and the harvest mark the end of one cycle and the beginning of another. The best of the crop will serve as a worthy example for future generations. With the end of the harvest, the cycle is completed.

Staff Plans Year

MR. DOUGLAS TAYLOR

Assistant Principal
B.A., Mississippi State
M.A., Louisiana State University

Sound administration of a large school is always complex. Mr. Taylor's handling of the many responsibilities of the assistant principal's office keeps Bolton running smoothly.

MR. JOHN D. DAVIS

Guidance Director
B.A., Louisiana College; M.Ed., Louisiana State University

MRS. CATHARINE MATTIS

Guidance Director
B.A., Louisiana College; M.Ed., Northwestern State

MRS. ELMENA DAVID

Head Dietitian

MR. B. F. GARLINGTON

Custodian of Buildings and Grounds

MRS. RUTH SPOFFORD

Secretary—Main Office

MR. WILLIAM E. PATE

Principal
B.A., Louisiana College
M.A., Louisiana State University

In the endless sea of trivia surrounding the operation of any large school, Mr. Pate's many years of training and experience plus his sound judgement and sincere interest in Bolton's students inspires them to attain that academic excellence which makes the completion of the high school seasons of growth.

Bolton Offers Sound

Wilburn Smith practices using his slide rule to speed math computations.

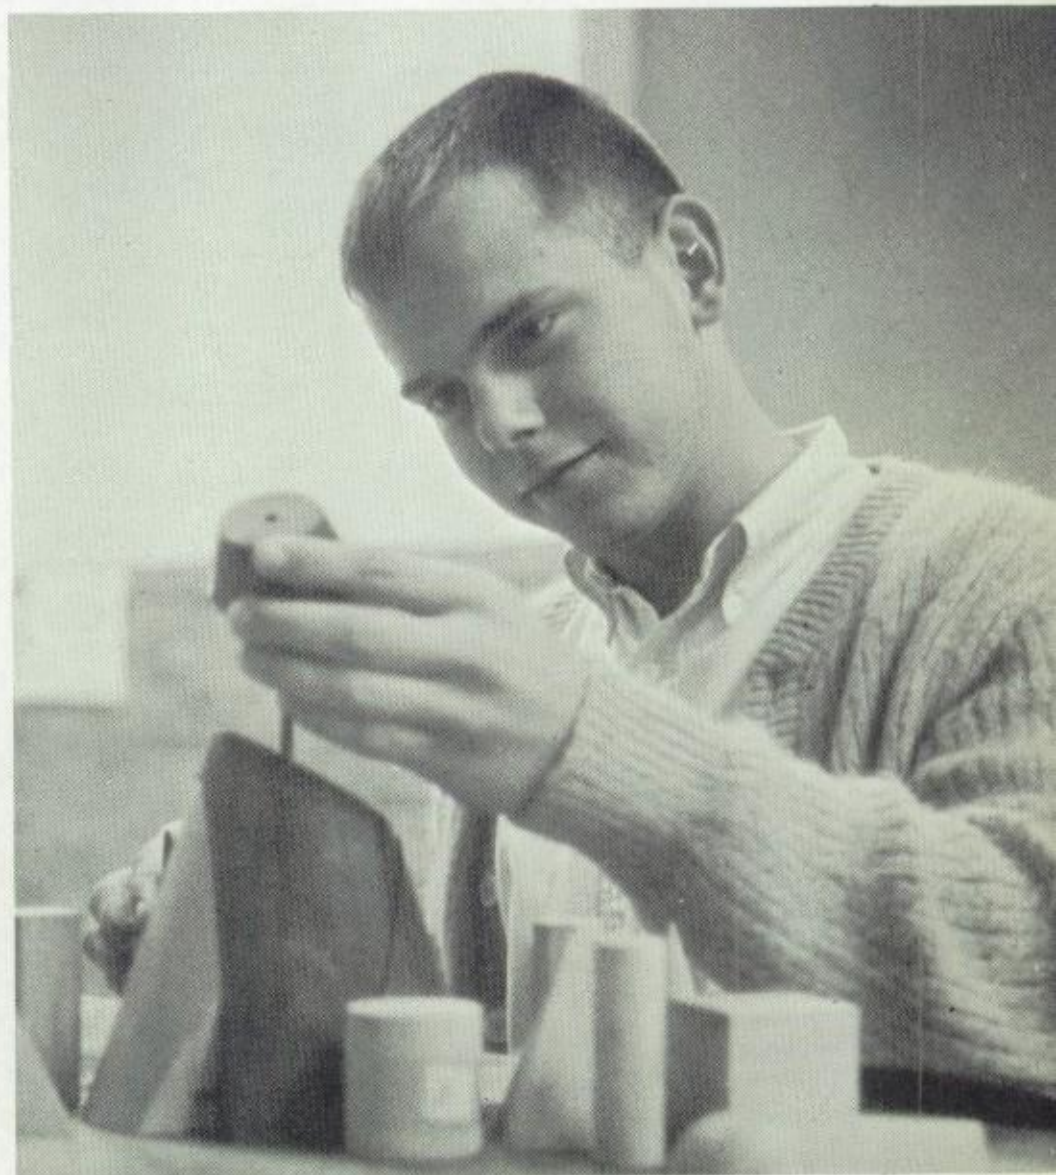

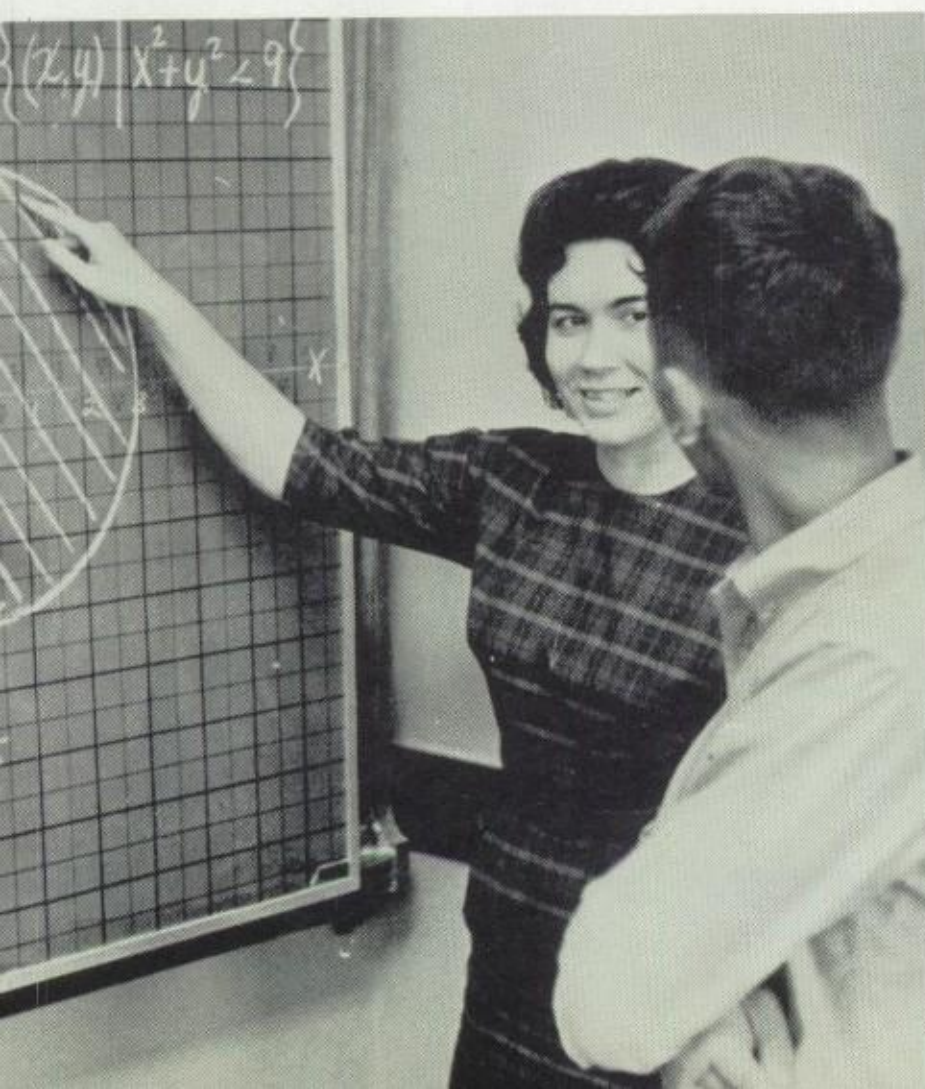

Looking to the class for help, Jim Getto works on a Senior Math problem at the board.

Basic Math Instruction

Miss Crews uses a graph to explain algebraic solutions to SMSG students, Nancy Chambers and Lynn McKenzie.

Bruce Van Zandt discovers Geometry is no longer difficult when models are used to illustrate the basic principles.

By graphing linear equations, Algebra I students can better understand intersecting or parallel lines. Here, Mr. Crouch explains a graph to Danny Pisciotto, Mike Eskew, and Margaret Daigre.

Honors Classes Study New Math Concepts

Senior class officers Jock Scott, president; Jimmy Winn, vice-president; and Mike Holder, secretary-treasurer are typical of the fine leaders Bolton has produced.

For fifty years senior classes have roamed the halls of Bolton—successfully challenging exacting academic standards and participating fully in extra activities which add lustre to school life. Seniors contribute to Bolton's excellent reputation, which is envied in our State and throughout the Nation. Bolton's athletes have matched fine records with even finer exhibitions of teamwork and sportsmanship. In speech and music, as in all areas, Bolton remains as a model to be imitated and envied.

Our school's reputation has been earned by consistency and diligence, serving as a foundation on which an even greater academic establishment can be built. Seniors, more than any, realize that Bolton offers her students a winter of preparation, a spring of budding, a summer of growth, and a fall of maturity.

Spring is the season best representing Bolton's seniors—for in Spring one is reminded of bright young minds eager for growth and maturity. Like a strong young tree, these students are prepared for the challenges of the future. We of this senior class are proud to have had the opportunity to meet and maintain Bolton's high standards! Our testament is high ranking on academic tests, manifestations of leadership ability, and the records of competitive teams and organizations. But we have also found something extra—a special enthusiasm, a spontaneous spirit and a sincere regard for our school and her accomplishments.

We approach graduation aware of the demands of the life ahead. We know that we are ready, for we have had the best preparation possible. We are proud of Bolton! Our fervent hope is that she will always be proud of the Seniors '65.

The year is over, Herbie Smith and Jimmy Winn echo the feelings of all Bolton's seniors as they recall all the memories these halls hold.

The Juniors of Bolton are privileged to attend and take part in all of Bolton's activities. We regard this privilege with deep respect and try at all times to live up to our school's fine name. Juniors, by participating fully, learn the qualities needed to become citizens of higher calibre and merit. Our devotion to school is the beginning of loyalty to our nation. Our enthusiasm, the beginning of diligence; our accomplishments are the achievements of tomorrow; our examples, the legacy of the future—all are a part of a wonderful year, the year of a Junior.

Officers elected by the Junior Class are Butch Hazelton, President, Joel Mullen, Vice-President, and Marc Lamkin, Secretary.

Chosen by the sophomore class to serve as leaders for this year are Paula Sparks, president; George Foote, vice-president; and Carolyn Mongue, secretary-treasurer.

We, Bolton's loyal sophomores, striving to become a part of Bolton, have established ourselves in many areas. In sports and competitive activities we have participated with enthusiastic interest. We did not lead on the honor roll, but we came out on top in the apple drive. However, we are quickly gaining pace academically as we become adjusted to our new surroundings. As our school pledge states, we "promise to cherish the good name of this school . . . and try to make it a better place by our presence." Loyalty, pride, enthusiasm, and intelligence are some of the characteristics we could hope for, and in developing these, we hope to be Bolton's leaders in '67.

Council Plans, Directs Student Activities

Here, Robert Ryder, our student council president, pauses to think of the responsibilities that he must take while pursuing his office.

Bolton's Student Council is well-known for effective leadership and helpful school service. Since 1951, the Student Council has provided an opportunity for students to participate in government and established a needed link between student body and faculty.

Membership in the Student Council consists of one representative from each homeroom. In addition, Miss Downs guides as faculty adviser; and each spring the entire student body elects four officers to direct the Council's activities in the coming year.

Beginning with a coke party for new students at the beginning of the year, this year's activities included sponsoring all school elections, supporting a Korean orphan, Kim Song Won, handling all homecoming festivities, collecting apples for Louisiana State Hospital, sponsoring a canned food drive at Christmas, and organizing the magazine sale.

Active in cooperation with other schools as well as with its own projects, the Student Council holds membership in state, southern, and national student council organizations.

Student Council officers: Robert Ryder, Fred Mongue, Kerry Everitt, and Ronnie McCrory, step back to encompass the school which they have devoted their energies.

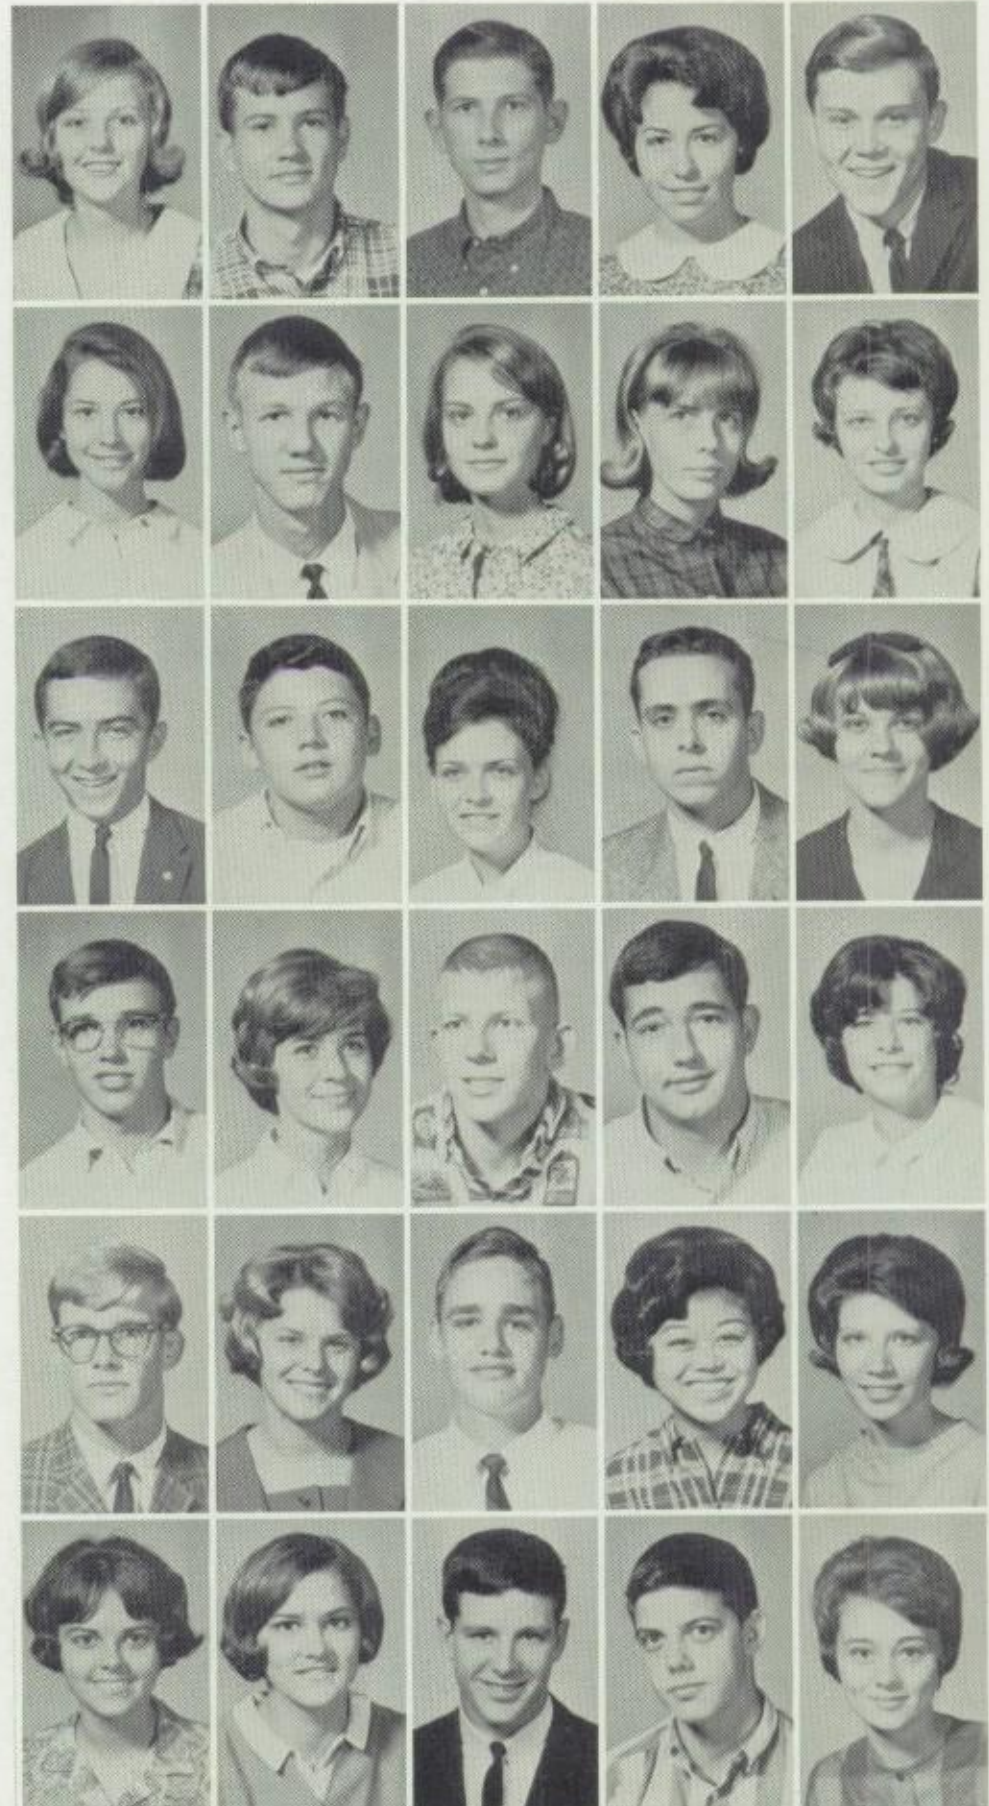

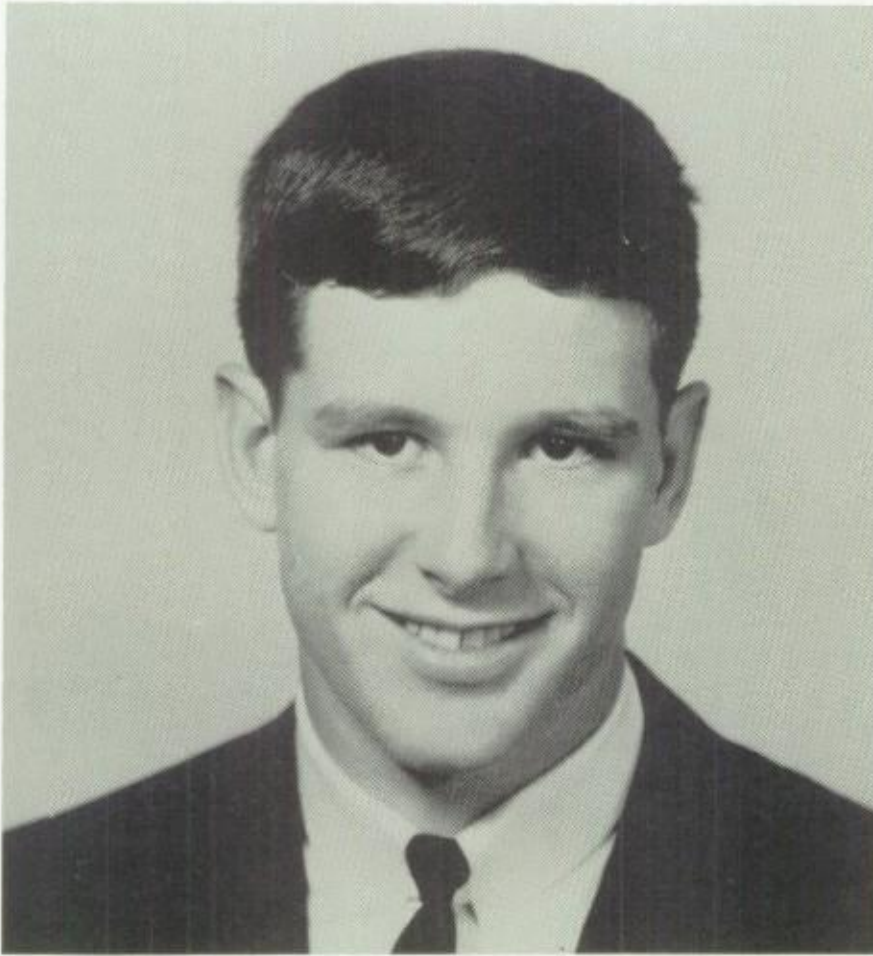

A Christmas decoration sheds its beauty on the students of Bolton. The tree it hangs upon, erected by the student council, symbolizes happiness to needy families when the food packages beneath it are delivered.

A Yearbook of and by the students, the BRUIN endeavors to portray an accurate insight into the year of a senior and fond remembrances of lower classmen. Through hours of research, many events of a fruitful school year are pictured so as to be forever embedded in the memories of the creators. The theme decided on by the Editors, topics, copy, pictures, and sections are produced around this focus point. All work and no play is not the motto of the staff; however, hundreds of man hours are centered on producing a better Bruin than that of the previous year. Even though no book could completely and accurately represent an entire year, Bolton students are always assured of having the best possible production that a group of student editors might compose. Because of the dedication, high standards, and performances of the editorial staff, BRUIN becomes a cherished possession of every Boltonite.

Phoebe Herrick makes out a receipt for Jack Sleet when he comes by to purchase a Bruin.

Barbara Hirsch and Jane Walker discuss plans for the financial end of yearbook publication.

Producing a yearbook the size of Bolton's Bruin requires hard work by the business staff in order to finance the publication. Under the leadership of Mrs. Sampson and Mrs. Stagg, faculty advisers, the Bruin business staff is responsible for planning the budget of the yearbook and raising the money necessary to meet that budget. The book is financed through the selling of advertising space to local business firms and conducting yearbook sales among Bolton students.

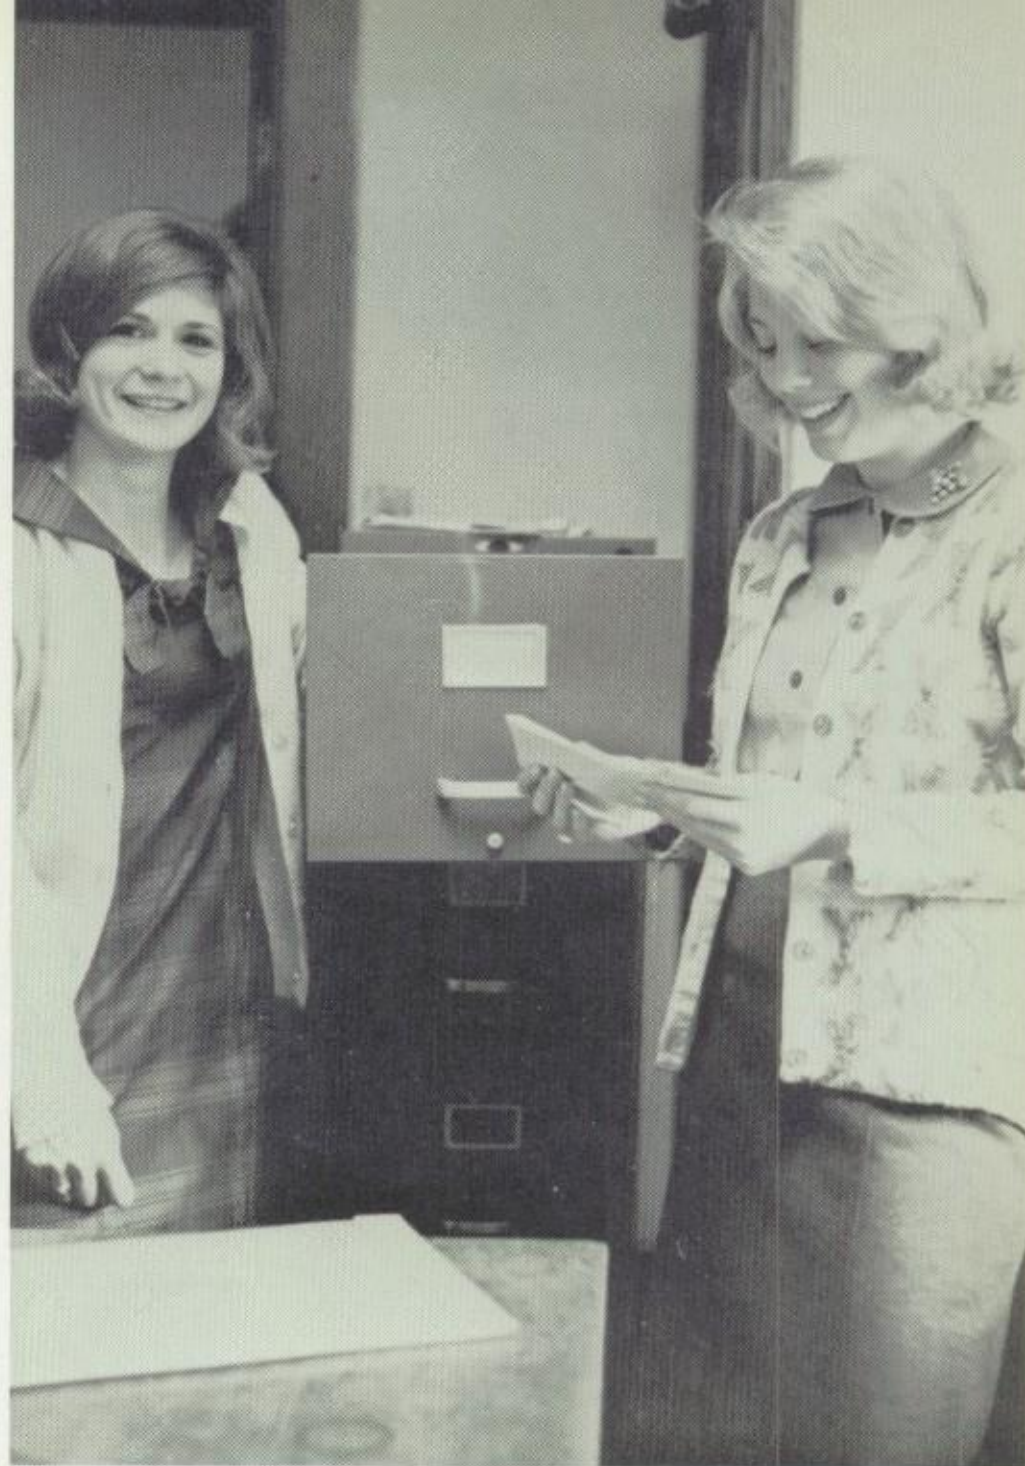

In addition, the staff is also responsible for the distribution of the books when they arrive.

Each member of the business staff, composed of students interested in the financial aspect of journalism, is required to sell a certain number of ads to remain in the organization. The staff's work is year long, continuing from the first of school until the entire goal of 1000 Bruins has been financed, sold, received, and distributed.

And Produces School Newspaper

Cumtux, Bolton's high school newspaper, gives students a chance to keep up with news events around school. Established in 1912, Cumtux is the oldest high school newspaper in Louisiana. Its name, derived from a Chinook Indian word means "a little bit of the best of everything."

The editorial staff is composed of reporters from journalism class and editors chosen from the previous year's journalism class. Fifteen issues are published yearly in addition to a special senior issue. Highlighting these issues are sports and feature columns as well as regular news stories.

Cumtux sponsors several projects besides regular publication. The Big Chief Cumtux election and a creative writing contest are yearly projects of this group. This year Cumtux added a mock Presidential election. Closing out the year's events is the annual Cumtux banquet where awards are presented and editors for the coming year are announced.

Dillon Murchison performs a traditional job as he cleans the Cumtux totem pole in preparing for the Cumtux elections.

Paper Depends On Business Staff Financing

One of the most difficult jobs in publishing a newspaper is making it pay for itself. This is the task which falls to the Cumtux business staff. This is all student work done under the direction of faculty sponsor Mrs. LeSuer. Selling ads and subscriptions to local business firms to finance the paper, handling all advertising, keeping careful accounts of the expenses of running the newspaper, and delivering papers to subscribers are also included among their duties. In short, the Cumtux business staff is responsible for handling the financial and practical end of Cumtux work to leave the editorial staff free for publication work.

Judy Sevell, Linda Rainey and Carol Riley call local firms in search of buyers for ads for the CUMTUX.

Through these open doors daily traverse busy members of the Cumtux Staff.

Weems, and Sponsor, Miss Cambre.

Beta Tau Sigma, Bolton's chapter of the National Honor Society, recognizes outstanding high school students. Each year a faculty committee chooses a select group of juniors and seniors for membership. Membership is based on scholarship, leadership, character and service to school and community. An annual project of the group has been the encouragement of scholarship by presenting honor plaques to the homerooms with greatest number of Honor Roll students. This year at the suggestion of club sponsor, Miss Cambre, the society donated a silver service to the home economics department as well.

Honoring students with exceptional ability in writing is the purpose of the Mary L. Thornton Chapter of Quill and Scroll. English teachers, sponsors of the school publications, and the sponsor of the Press Club nominate new members while final election is left to the club itself. These members are chosen on the basis of writing skill through journalism or in English class. Projects of this group include the sponsorship of a book review by Mrs. Weldon Lynch and publication of a book containing writing samples of Bolton students.

Presenting an invitation to Edith Hyde, one of the newly chosen Quill and Scroll members, is Andree Hunter, club secretary.

President, Ken Murchison, welcomes new members and explains Quill and Scroll objectives to them.

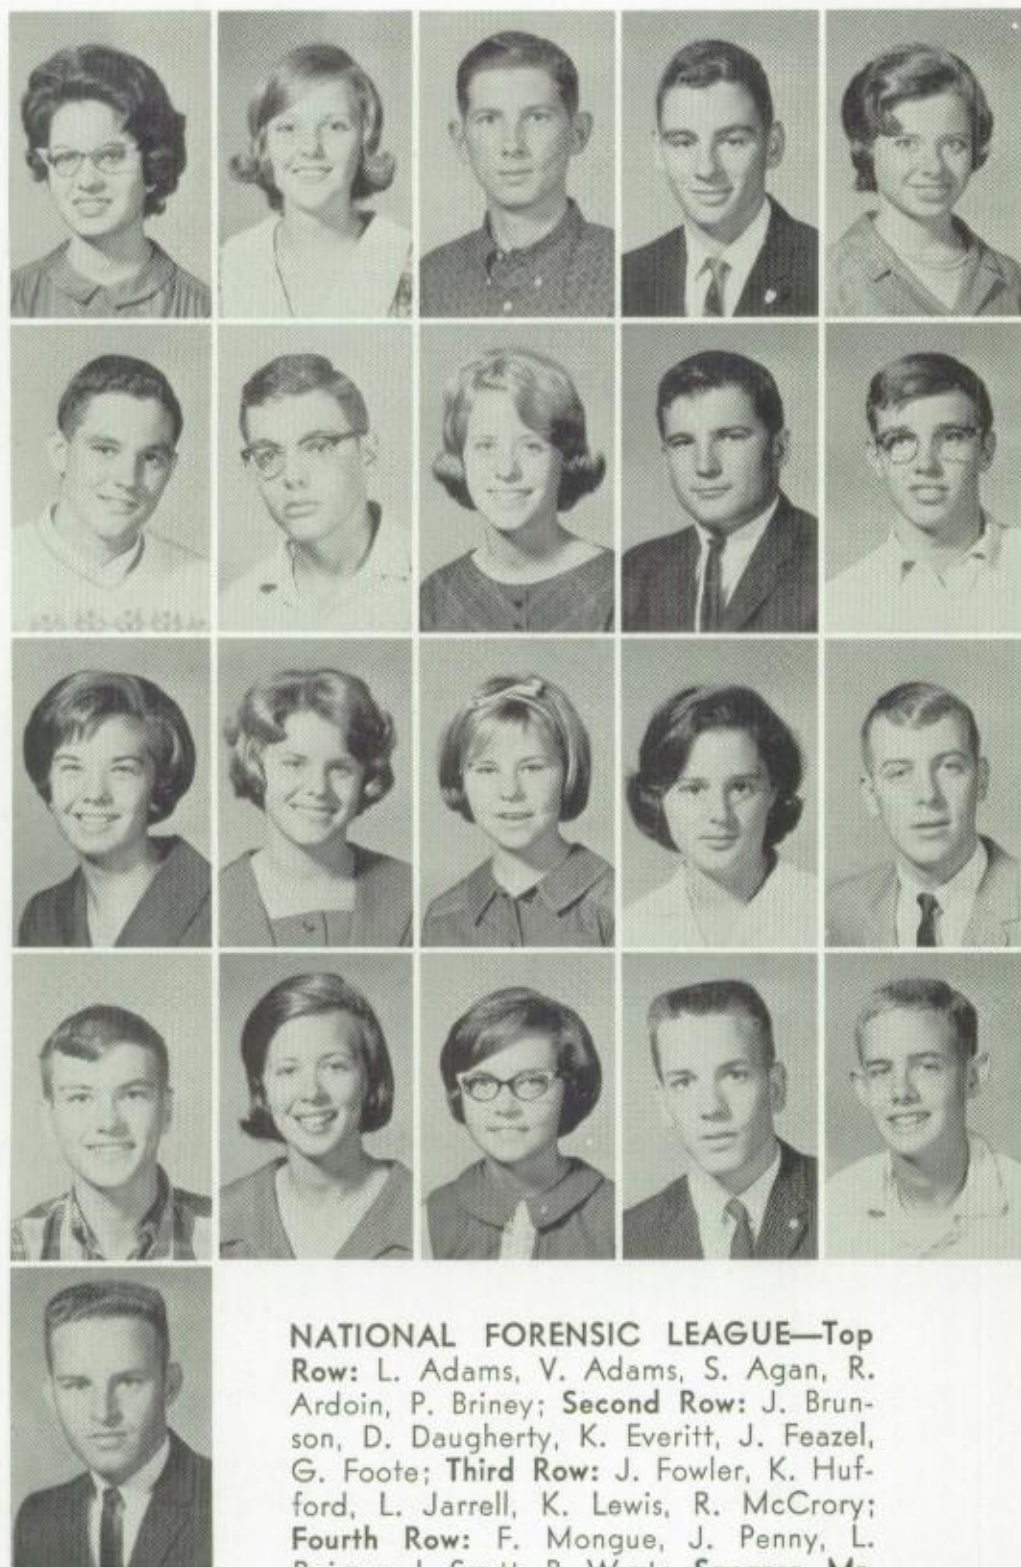

Elected as officers of Quill and Scroll were Ken Murchison, president; Karl Stein, vice-president; and Andree Hunter, secretary.

Open to all students interested in debate, the Debate Club provides an opportunity for members to learn basic debate rules, to hold practice debates, and to prepare for the tournaments which are held at various colleges around the state. Members learn the values of concentrated research, careful planning and good speaking ability—all of which are necessary for continued success in debating.

Outstanding students in speech and debate are eligible for membership in the National Forensic League. This organization is Bolton's chapter of a national honor speech society in which students who excel in both individual events and debate in speech tournaments are invited to participate. After admission to the organization, higher degrees of Merit, Honor, Excellence, and Distinction may also be obtained by those students who consistently receive high ratings at the tournaments they attend.

Sponsored by Mr. Meade P. Shaw, the Bolton Key Club is composed of outstanding young men who are selected on the basis of leadership, scholarship, honor and integrity, and school service. Its goals are to develop those same characteristics, to serve Bolton and our community, and to provide members with a chance to grow through pride in individual accomplishment and experience in working with others.

Patterned after its parent organization, the Kiwanis Club, Key Club membership is limited to young men who value those ideals on which the club was founded and maintaining these ideals is one of the requirements for remaining in the club. This organization, one of the most active at Bolton, serves the school in many ways, ushering at football games, controlling the parking lot, directing traffic, electing a Key Club Sweetheart, holding an annual sweetheart dance, and sponsoring a leadership banquet each year honoring the officers of Bolton's clubs and organizations.

Judge Edmund Reggie shares his enthusiasm for politics with the delegates to leadership.

Thespians Promote Acting, JRC Helps Others

Elected as representatives by homerooms, the members of the Junior Red Cross serve the entire community and our school as evidenced by its work during the Hilda disaster last fall. Included among its activities are the dyeing of Easter eggs for patients at Pinecrest State School, volunteer work at local hospitals, collection of clothes for needy families, and emergency service during natural and other disasters. The club also sends a representative to Red Cross Leadership Camp.

The aims of the National Thespians Society are to create and perpetuate a standard of excellence in the various areas of dramatic arts and to establish and advance an interest in dramatics. Membership is the highest honor a dramatics student can attain and selection is based upon a system of points earned through participation in both speech and dramatics.

Inviting David Stanley into membership of Thespians, Susie Stephens pins the traditional ribbon on the lapel in order that his good fortune may be recognized by others.

Language Comes Alive For French Students

The Bolton French Club, consisting of students who have one or more units in French, is mainly interested in the promotion of the study of French history, language, and culture. Members study the background and history of France and French-speaking peoples, and many students take advantage of the opportunity to correspond with other teenagers in France and her territories. The club selects a service project each year which they feel will benefit the school. Many of Bolton's phone booths, clocks, benches, and trophy cases are the results of French Club projects.

Students who have had or are taking one year of Spanish are eligible for membership in the Spanish Club. The club's purpose is to promote the welfare of the school and Spanish department. It fulfills this goal by offering members a chance to study Spanish and Latin American history and culture. Many students widen their scope by studying effects of Spanish speaking nations and peoples of the world.

The club participates actively in civic as well as school affairs with annual contribution to the Alexandria Doll and Toy Fund and Homecoming float. Aside from interesting meetings and programs concerning Spain, the club also presents an award each year to the outstanding third year Spanish student.

Working to accent interest in ancient Roman civilization, the Latin Club draws its membership from those students who have at least one year of Latin or are currently studying it. Club members share common interest in the times, customs, and language of the ancient peoples of Rome.

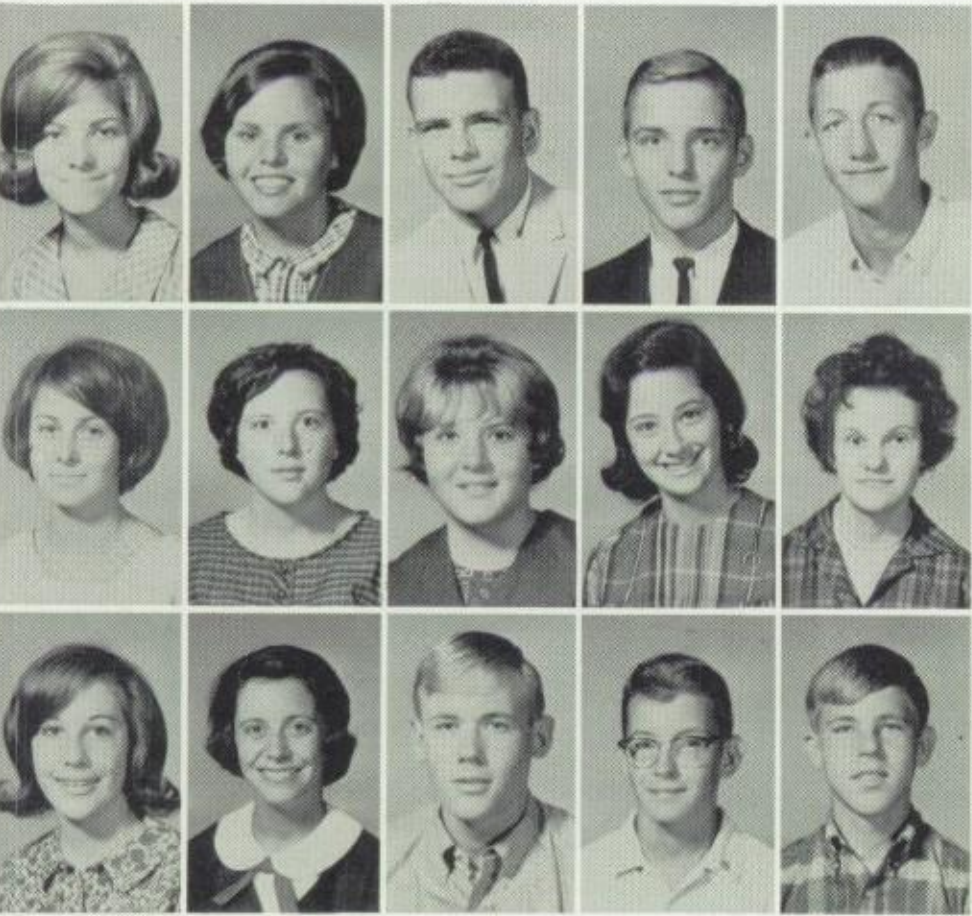

The club helps one to become acquainted with the traditions of the ancient Romans. From these studies the student learns that Latin is constantly with us.

Holding service as its goal also, the Latin Club sponsors numerous projects each year. The proceeds this year financed a trip to the state convention.

Newest member of Bolton's long line of outside interests, the Photography Club, was formed to direct more attention to photography. The chief aims of the club are to share and exchange new techniques and to stimulate deeper understanding of this hobby. This year's project was a photo contest conducted among interested students around Bolton.

Whirlwind Of Activity Marks Club's Program

The Dramatic Club gives its members valuable experience during all the phases of production of its plays. Plays produced this year were "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" and "Pillow Talk," during which members sold tickets; planned and built sets; gathered props; applied make-up; handled sound effects, costumes, and lights; and also learned lines and enacted their roles.

Along with these and many other activities, the Dramatic Club presents Bolton with many awards from participation in the numerous speech tournaments.

Musical Comedy Climaxes Choir Presentations

The Bolton High School Choir represents the school by appearing publicly and displaying their talent to many groups: the choir, chorale, and Girls' Glee Club. This year the choir added to its regular fall and spring concerts the production of the musical "Bye Bye Birdie" in which talented singers showed dramatic ability in many of the major roles. Perhaps the most outstanding of these groups is the chorale. Composed of select singers, it presents special programs for numerous civic events.

The officers of the Bolton Choir lead the club's projects and activities. They are Bill Conerly, librarian; Cindi Williams, secretary; Phyllis Ellard, president; Skip Nunnally, vice-president; Sharon Williams, secretary; and Chester McDonald, robe chairman.

The Bolton High School Marching and Concert Band has proven itself to be one of the most outstanding in the state and is recognized as such. Because of this achievement, the band, under the direction of Mr. James E. Clark, has been selected to represent the state on a number of occasions including this year's invitation to a band festival in Florida. Boasting several all-state band members, both concert and marching each year, the band has a record and a reputation of which it can be proud.

By performing at every pep rally and home football game the band serves the school in still another capacity. Their colorful uniforms, rhythmic numbers, and precision marches always enliven every game.

Concert practice begins after football season in preparation for the Spring Band Concert, an annual event. The band also participates in the Natchitoches music festivals and the Lafayette Concert Band Contest.

Johnny Breland, Wayne Shiver, Bruce Manning, and Bart Hall gather material for a rummage sale to finance the band trip to Florida.

Acting as spokesmen for the student body, the cheerleaders express wishes for a happy birthday to Coach Jarrell during a pep rally.

School spirit is especially high during Homecoming. In front of the new City Hall, the Bolton students are led in yells by the cheerleaders.

Cheerleaders and the ever-present "Yogi" are just as much a part of athletics as the athletes themselves because of the spirit they bring with them.

Cheerleaders Exemplify '65 Spirit

When the points are close, the cheerleaders lend a hand by inspiring the fans to support their team. Here they urge the team to score another basket.

Adding life to every athletic event with their enthusiastic cheers and organized yells are the cheerleaders. This group of six girls is elected for the purpose of encouraging the display of school spirit. On their cheering is often hinged the success of the team for without support team morale fades. The girls put in long hours in preparation for each game—painting signs and banners, decorating goal posts, and leading pep rallies.

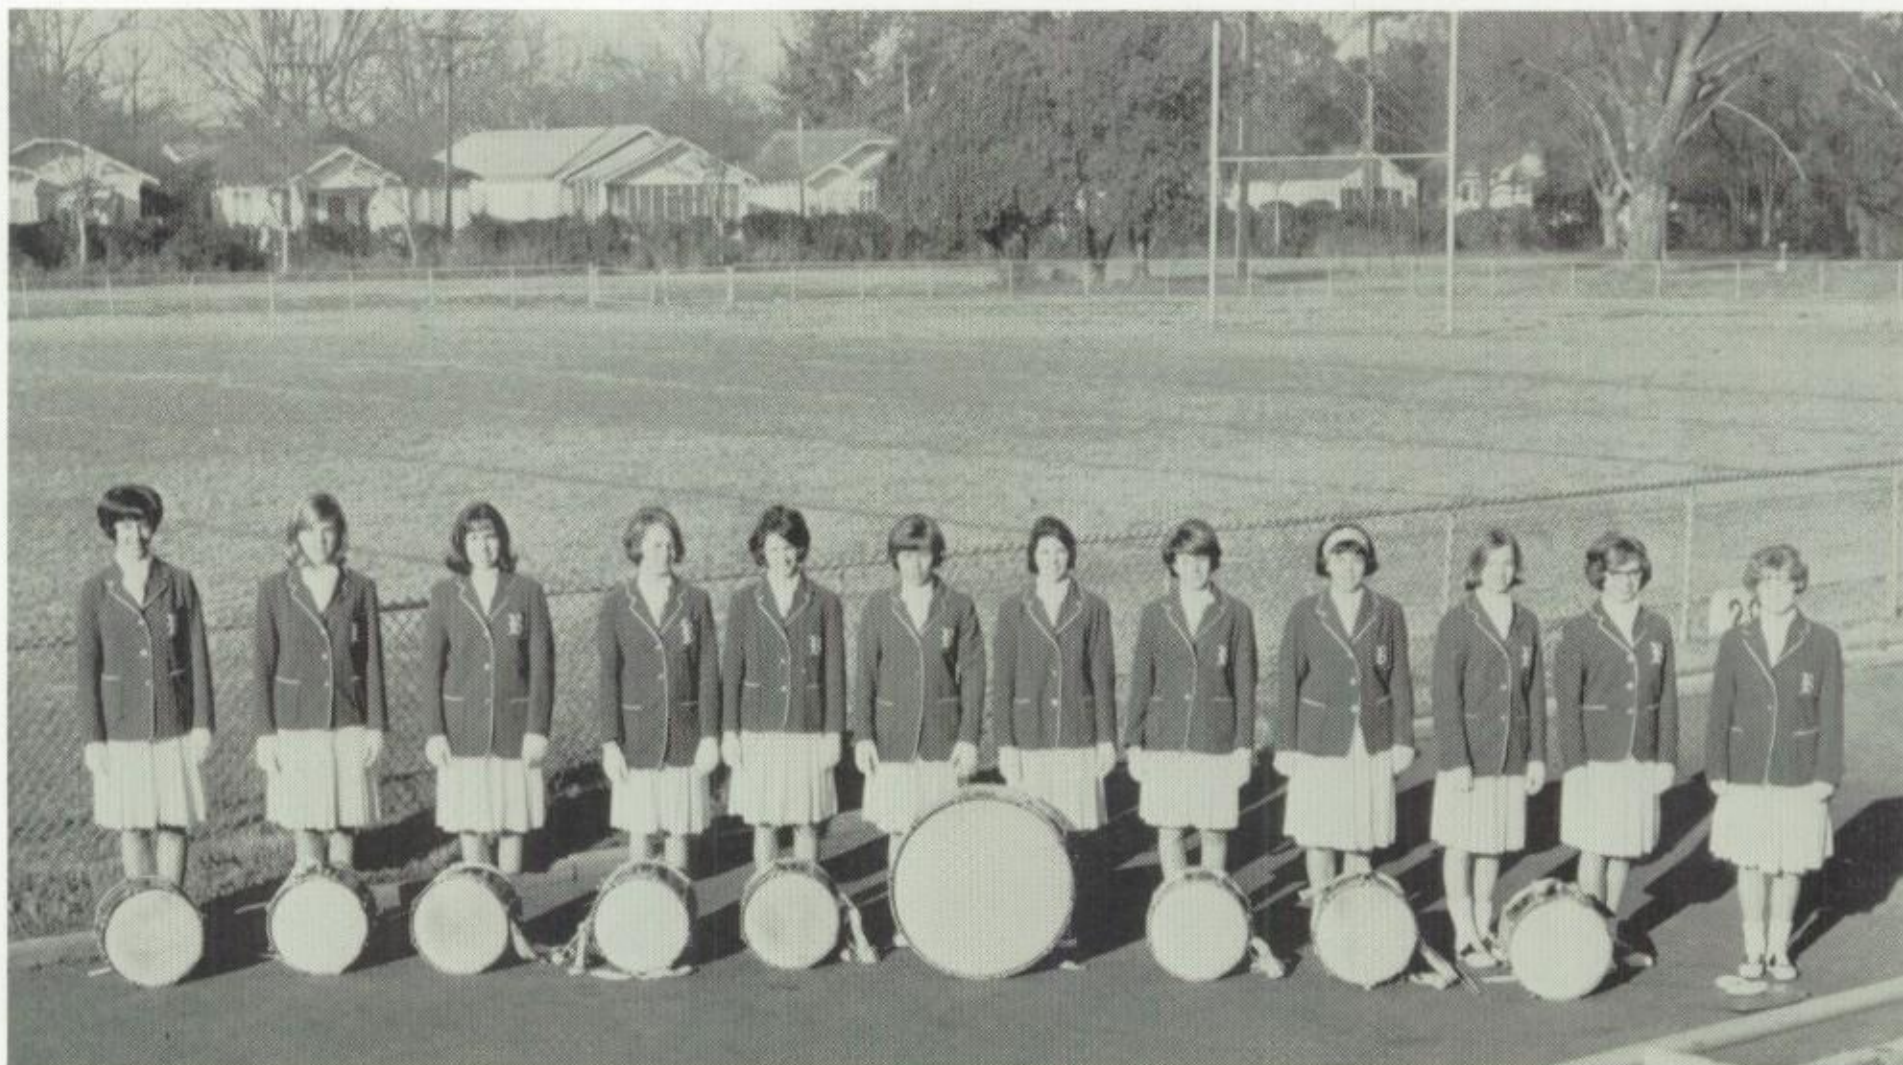

The alternate cheerleaders provide similar enthusiasm for junior varsity games and gain valuable on-the-job experience. They lead the Bruinettes in cheering for the junior teams and substitute for absent cheerleaders at varsity games.

New uniforms add color to B team cheerleaders Cathy Chandler, Mary Tassin, Cathy Anastasio, and Mary Middleton.

Booster Enthusiasm Inspires Athletes

O'Brien, M. Pittman, M. Praet.

Organized in 1922 to promote worthwhile projects, the Bolton Boosters serve the school enthusiastically by marching in parades, cheering at football and basketball games, staging half-time shows for the enjoyment of fans, and assisting in the homecoming ceremonies and festivities. Boosters are chosen on a standard of excellence in scholarship, loyalty, dependability, and service. Their enthusiastic support at all home games seldom fails to awaken a positive response from the fans and team.

Included among their annual projects are selling spirit ribbons for home football games, sponsoring a Soc Hop after the first home football game, and planning and direction of the Booster Talent Show in the spring. In addition the Boosters held their first banquet honoring outstanding members.

Rounding out the booster organization is the drum squad, a select group of girls furnishing the rhythm for the precision marching formations at halftime of football games.

The traditional Homecoming parade brings with it the marching of the Drum Squad.

Booster purses and books line the walk nearly every afternoon while members drill for hours to reach perfection.

Bruinettes Taught School Spirit And Loyalty

Girls of the sophomore class, chosen on the basis of leadership, character, scholarship and for their marching ability, compose the Bruinettes. Bolton's future Boosters, these girls actively display their school spirit by cheering at "B" team games and at many home basketball games during the year.

Besides their cheering role, the Bruinettes also sell peanuts, popcorn, and programs to Bear supporters at all of the home football games. The members are divided into nine squads each of which is headed by an officer elected by the girls. These officers are responsible for keeping a record of points earned for selling at football games. At the end of each year, those girls with a prescribed amount of points are eligible for Boosters. To reach this organization is the aim of Bruinettes. It is for this reason that they are marched and drilled by the Booster officers while directed by their own squad leaders in hand signals.

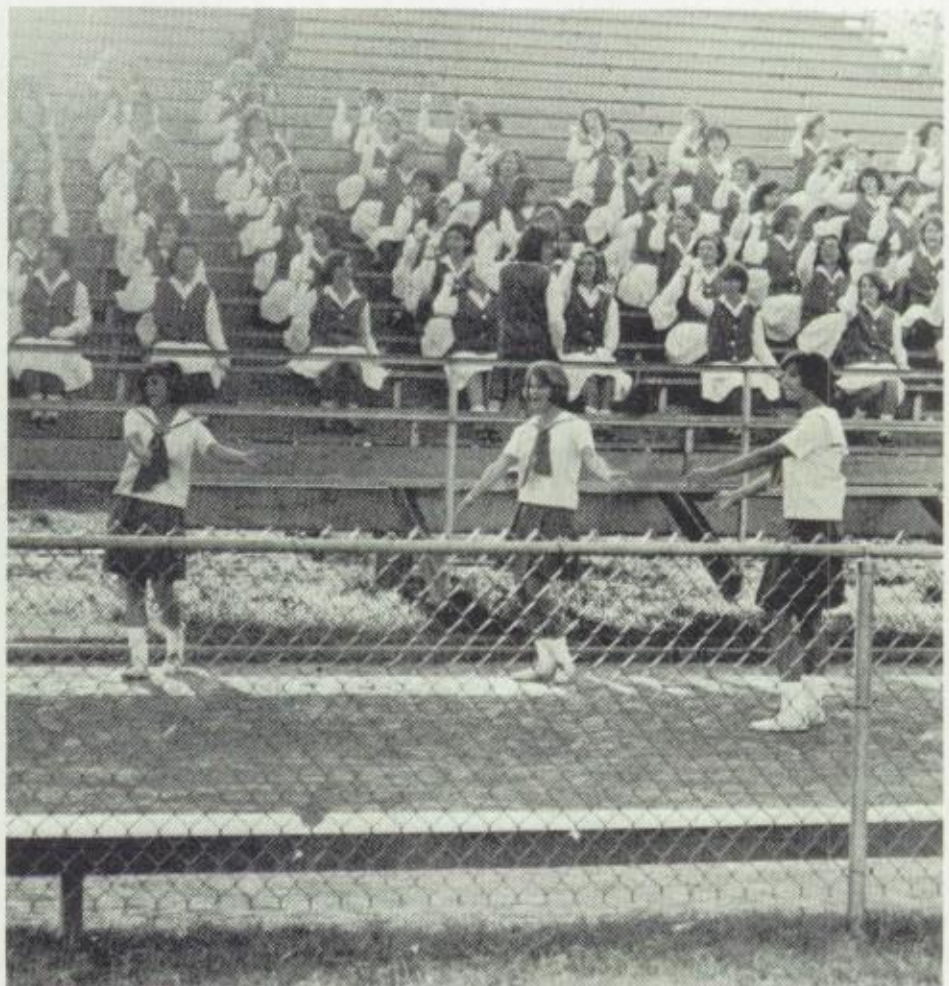

Bruinettes perform another duty of their organization by cheering at basketball games.

Weeks Crumplar talks to a fellow ham operator while Patty Edgerton and Bob Boese listen eagerly Bolton's Amateur Radio Club, organized because of student interest in this field, provides an opportunity for Bolton students to learn the principles of radio construction, transmission, and reception as well as learning to use Morse code. By using these skills it is possible for students to obtain a Ham Radio Operator's license and a number of students have taken advantage of this opportunity. A local radio operator, Mr. Richard Taylor, provides instruction in these areas.

Their well equipped club room, completely set up as a short wave station with transmitters, receivers, and aials, is a site of constant activity. Using the room as a day station, with transmitters, members are able to communicate with Ham Radio operators across the nation. In this way, students are able to acquire the skills needed before they can open stations of their own.

Patty Edgerton exchanges news with other operators throughout the United States.

Pelican State, Leadership Highlight Summer

During the traditional Pelican State assembly, members shower each other with everything from waterguns to boasts about respective parties.

Bolton's Pelican State Delegation spent nine days last summer at L.S.U. gaining experience and knowledge in Louisiana politics. The delegates were nominated by the previous year's Pelican Staters, elected from the junior class, and approved by the faculty.

The main goal of Pelican State is to instruct high school students in the rights and responsibilities of citizenship. Upon arrival the delegates are assigned to cities, parishes, and political parties, and then hold elections.

The L.S.U. campus is also the site of the summer Leadership Conference each year. The conference provides instruction and experience to carefully screened students in speech, recreation, journalism, and library science. All who attend return with valuable knowledge in the fields they represent.

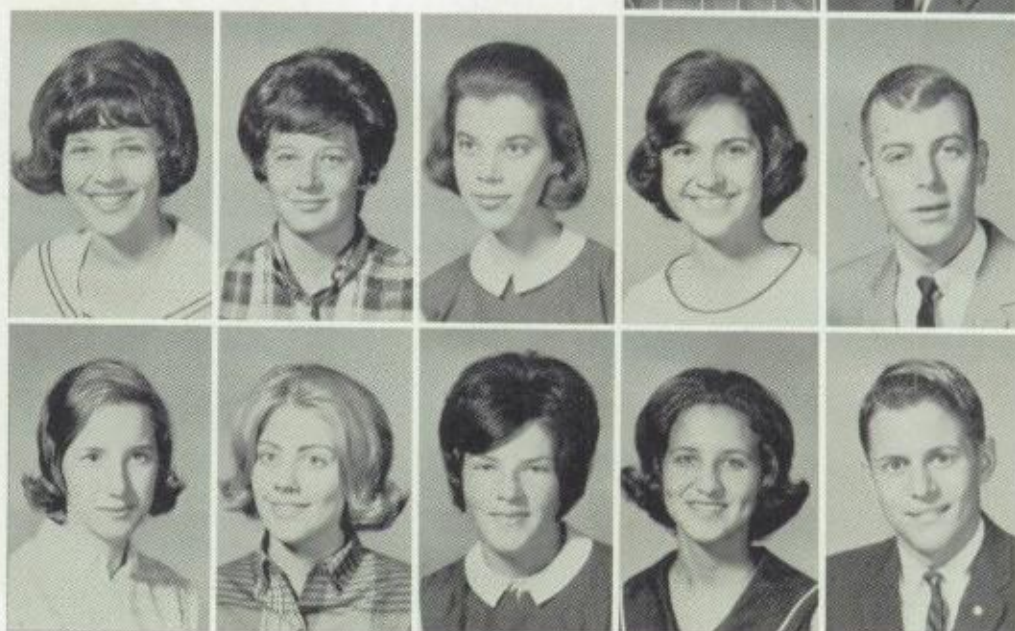

Members of Pelican State join the fun in seeing each other in the Pelican State Yearbook.

The Math Club, formed to give students an opportunity to unite their interests in mathematics, has proved to be a club with many purposes. In addition to showing that mathematics can be fun when it is viewed open-mindedly, it also endorses the annual slide rule contest at Northwestern State College and selects Bolton's representatives to participate in this event. The main purpose of the club being to introduce students to different aspects of mathematics, it also sponsors the morning slide rule classes for all interested students.

Math Problems, Science Experiments Analyzed

Sponsored by Mr. Joe O'Mealy, the Science Club of Bolton provides gifted and interested students with an opportunity to delve deeper into science and its applications than regular classwork permits. Organized in response to student request, the club offers the college bound student valuable experience in scientific fields. The members have begun a collection of pamphlets and literature to assist science students in their studies and aid each year in the promotion of Bolton's science fair.

Science Club officers Gene Fendler, president, and Mac Fitzsimmons, vice-president, tour the greenhouse at the new forestry research center.

Club Members Enlightened About Future Careers

F.T.A. Officers: L. Harnden, reporter; J. Janette, parliamentarian; S. Rogers, historian; C. Smith, president; M. Stanley, secretary; B. Fowler, vice-president; R. Brandau, treasurer.

One of many excellent clubs that help students in planning their probable careers, the Future Teachers of America proves immensely rewarding to that student who has chosen teaching as a profession. By detailed research, panel discussions, and interesting talks given by guest speakers, the members are provided with accurate information about the field in which they have chosen to direct their study. Among several yearly projects engaged in by the F.T.A. are Teacher Appreciation Day, an Easter party at St. Joseph's Home, and attending the state convention. The election of officers highlights the club's spring activities.

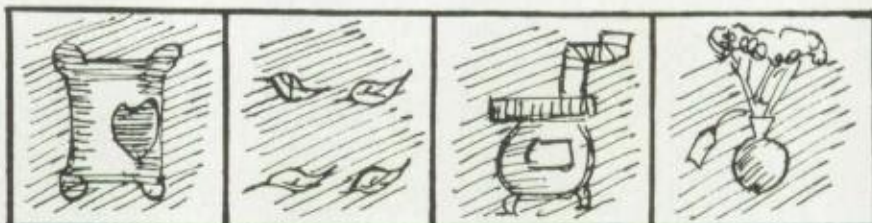

The Future Nurses of America gives its members information in nursing. Several times each year a representative from one of the health careers speaks to F.N.A. members. As a result, interest in this profession increases among participants, especially following lectures on the nursing field. The main projects this year were these: participating in the hospital program at local hospitals, donating to the Salvation Army, and contributing to the Doll and Toy Fund. Awards are presented in the spring for hours earned serving in these capacities.

Composed of girls having a keen interest in sports, the Girls Athletic Association provides an opportunity for games between its members as well as the fun connected with such activity. Being opened to all interested in recreation and instruction in that field, the G.A.A. recently introduced a Modern Dance Club. A popular organization among its members, the club learns new and traditional dances as well as attends a symposium at Southeastern State College in Hammond. Added to this the G.A.A. enables its members to learn the finer points of and participate in games such as volleyball and basketball.

At the end of each year a plaque is presented to the Most Athletic Senior Girl in the club. This presentation has proved as inspiration to next year's athletes.

G.A.A. officers, Maydie Pittman, secretary; Sharon O'Brien, treasurer; Betty Holt, vice-president; and Fran Hancock, president, discuss basketball techniques.

Those girls who are members of the Future Homemakers of America began a very active year with an informal initiation of new members. This organization is devoted to a desire to instruct members in home and family living. It is for this reason that their discussions, projects, and numerous activities are centered around topics affecting the American family. This year the members centered their thoughts and works around these topics: The Values of School and The Importance of Marriage.

The projects undertaken this year were a style show at the beginning of the year featuring Bolton students as models, a cookbook sale, gifts for the aged during Christmas, and attending conventions. At the end of the school year, a Girl of the Year is selected on the basis of points earned in the activities.

Increasing each member's knowledge of business careers is the reason the Future Business Leaders of America was organized. Each year some members attend national convention. Representatives are chosen on basis of service and participation in activities and projects.

Distributive Education offers members a chance to gain experience and financial benefits by holding jobs with local business firms in the afternoon. School is attended during the morning hours enabling the student to finish his credits at Bolton. This provides the student with invaluable knowledge which cannot be offered in school.

Library, Civil Defense Render School Service

Looking for a book, Dewitt Daigre searches the file catalog for information.

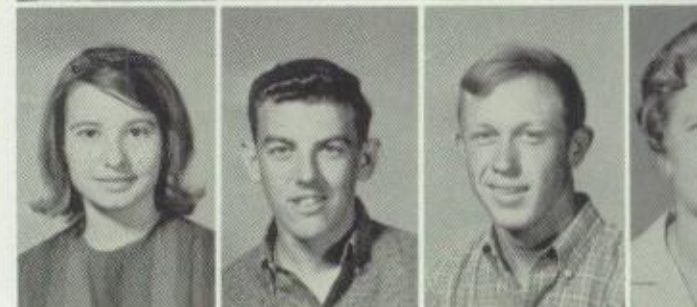

A select group of students, chosen for good character and dependability, compose the Library Club. Their duties, providing training in library work, include checking out books, helping students to find materials, filing books, and other assorted librarian duties. This proves greatly rewarding in later years.

Civil Defense has become an important job. Bolton's Civil Defense Club reflects this attitude in the manner in which they carry out prescribed duties during a practice alert. Cooperating with Civil Defense authorities in alerts, members direct traffic, aid in communications, and man first aid stations. Knowing exactly what to do during an emergency could save lives in event of any disaster.

Taking advantage of the library facilities, Robert Ates uses the visual aids in the reading room.

Clubs Honor Athletic, Journalistic Ability

While planning assignments for club members, Press Club officers Kay Lewis, president; Carl Morfeld, vice-president; Ann Evans, secretary; and Bill Casey, historian, view with pride the previous week's published work.

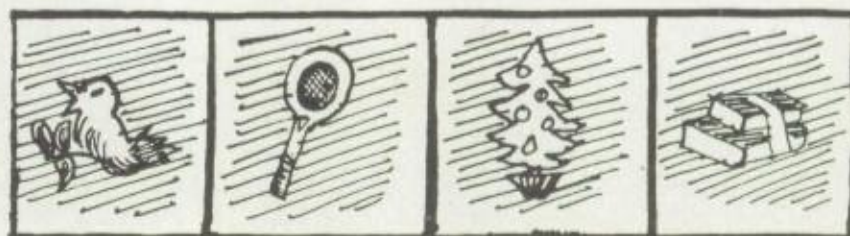

Athletes who have earned their letter make up the "B" Club. The chief goal of the club is to create a greater interest in athletics. The club's main project has been a Hall of Fame in which the past record of Bolton's teams and outstanding individuals are represented in pictures.

Student Instructors play a large role in Bolton's excellent gym program. By demonstrating techniques, officiating at games, grading papers, and helping to compute final grades, they aid the gym teachers greatly. These students are chosen on the basis of dependability, character, and scholarship.

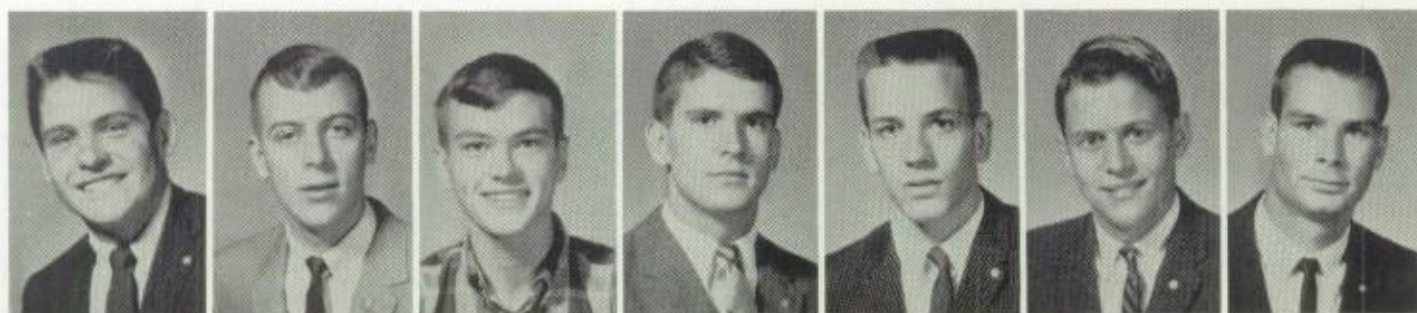

Students interested in journalism and having talent in writing comprise the Press Club, a service organization dedicated to informing the public about Bolton. Special projects of Bolton organizations are reported and featured on a weekly page in the Alexandria Daily Town Talk.

PRESS CLUB—Top Row: C. Adams, L. Barton, P. Briney; Second Row: S. Brookner, S. Duffy, K. Everitt, B. Hall, L. Jarrell; Third Row: D. Murchison, C. Smith, J. Waddell, L. Walton, and Sponsor, Mrs. Evans.

STAGE CREW—B. Gahagan, R. McCrory, F. Mongue, R. Ryder, J. Scott, G. Wells, J. Winn.

Fred Mongue adjusts the stage microphone, one of his many duties as a member of the stage crew.

PROJECTION STAFF—B. Barwick, G. Bethard, R. Casey, G. Dear, G. Fendler, R. Gagnon, B. Gahagan, D. Stanley, P. Staples.

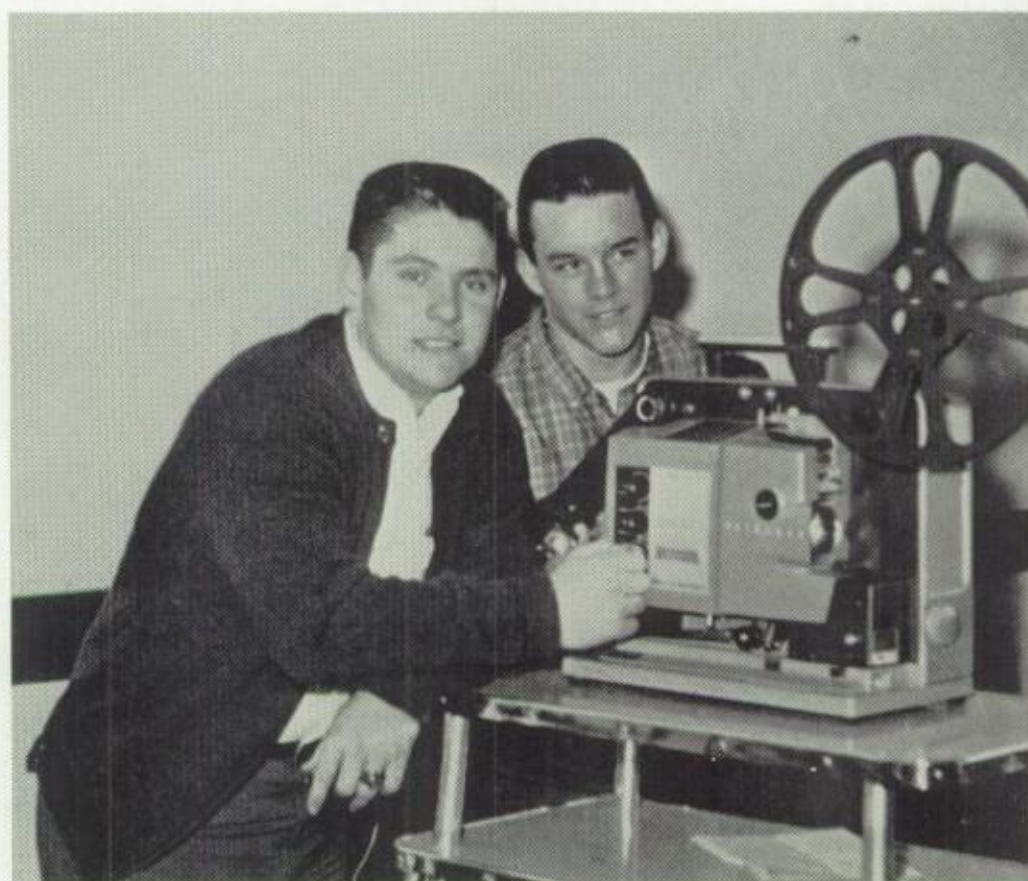

Seldom seen or given credit for duties they perform is the stage crew. These efficient workers operate back-stage machinery. In addition, curtain, scenery, lights, and the sound effects equipment are operated by its members.

Bolton's movie projectionists operate numerous films pertaining to history, science, and other subjects. By doing so, they render an important service to the school in interest of higher learning.

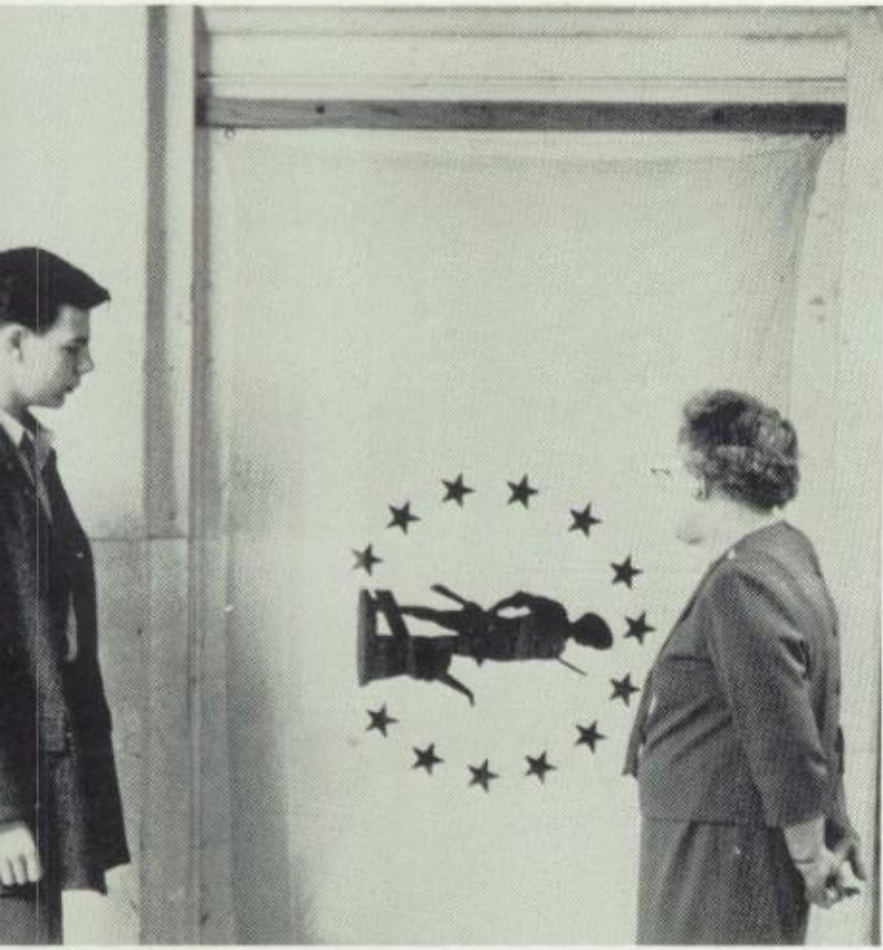

The most important single duty is performed diligently every day by the color guard. They have been entrusted with the duty of caring for and safely keeping the symbol of freedom.

Bud Gahagan and Richard Gagnon, members of the projection staff, adjust the tuning on a projector.

Staffs Provide Little-Noticed Services

Mrs. Spofford explains the history of the minuteman flag to Frank Sweetman as he listens attentively.

Frank Sweetman and Harry Vanderford, who compose the color guard, are responsible for raising the flag each morning and lowering it each afternoon.

A new student at Bolton, Wayne Williams, views the flag in the lobby that was presented to Bolton by the Gold Star Mothers.

As a member of Mrs. Spofford's staff, Dianne Mayhue is responsible for all incoming calls.

MAIN OFFICE STAFF—A. David, A. Malone, D. Mayhue, M. Tillman.

Office Workers Help School Administration

Joann Velek, a member of the Guidance Office staff, checks the files for a student's record.

GUIDANCE OFFICE STAFF—G. Batchelor, C. Cappel, L. Crozier, S. Duffy; Second Row: J. Fowler, N. Gillis, C. Henderson, J. Pardue; Third Row: S. Sanford, T. Scalf, J. Velek, J. Waddell.

Office workers, chosen for their scholarship, congeniality, and character, must be able to handle many tasks and responsibilities. Workers in the main office assist Mrs. Spofford with telephone calls, typing, announcements, filing cards, and checking records.

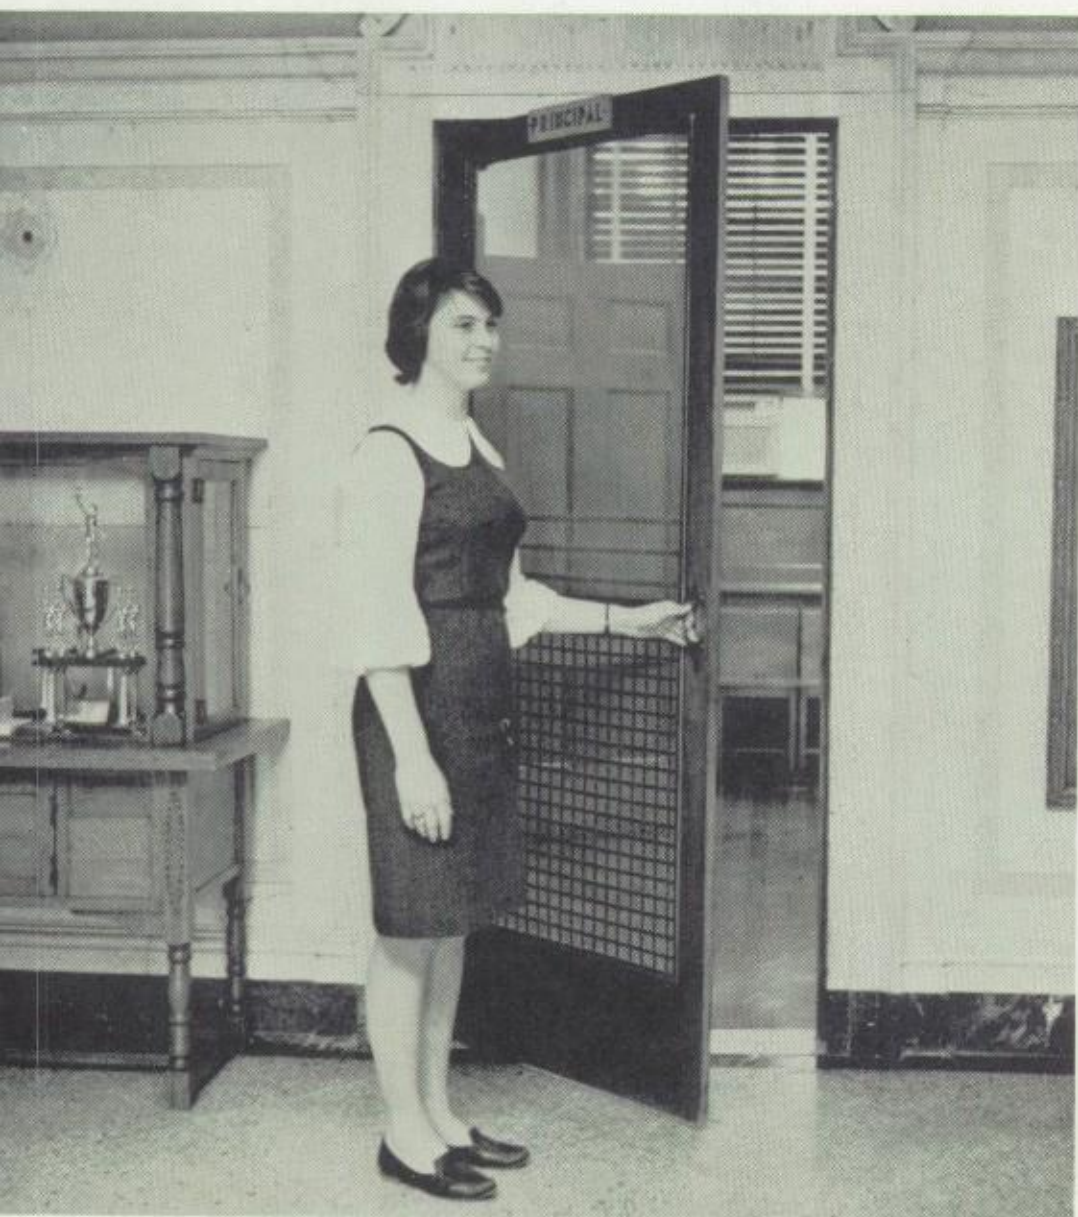

The guidance staff types and files records in addition to delivering messages for Mr. Davis and Mrs. Mattis. Workers in the assistant principal's office make out transfer reports and absentee lists and aid in checking students in and out of school. The courtesy committee, Mr. Pate's personal assistants, greet visitors, deliver messages, and show new students around school.

All four of these staffs prove invaluable to the executive faculty because of their able assistance and dependability.

Mr. Taylor's staff is responsible for attendance records. One of his assistants, Gayle Holt, checks the roll for absentees.

Fulfilling one of her Courtesy Committee duties, Paula Randolph shows visitors into Mr. Pate's office.

Student Help Manages Rush Hours

Helen Eyer, Mr. Fitzgerald's canteen assistant, sells English literature to Diane Anderson and Lee Walton.

John Rainey uses the new candy machines placed in the lobby for the convenience of the student body.

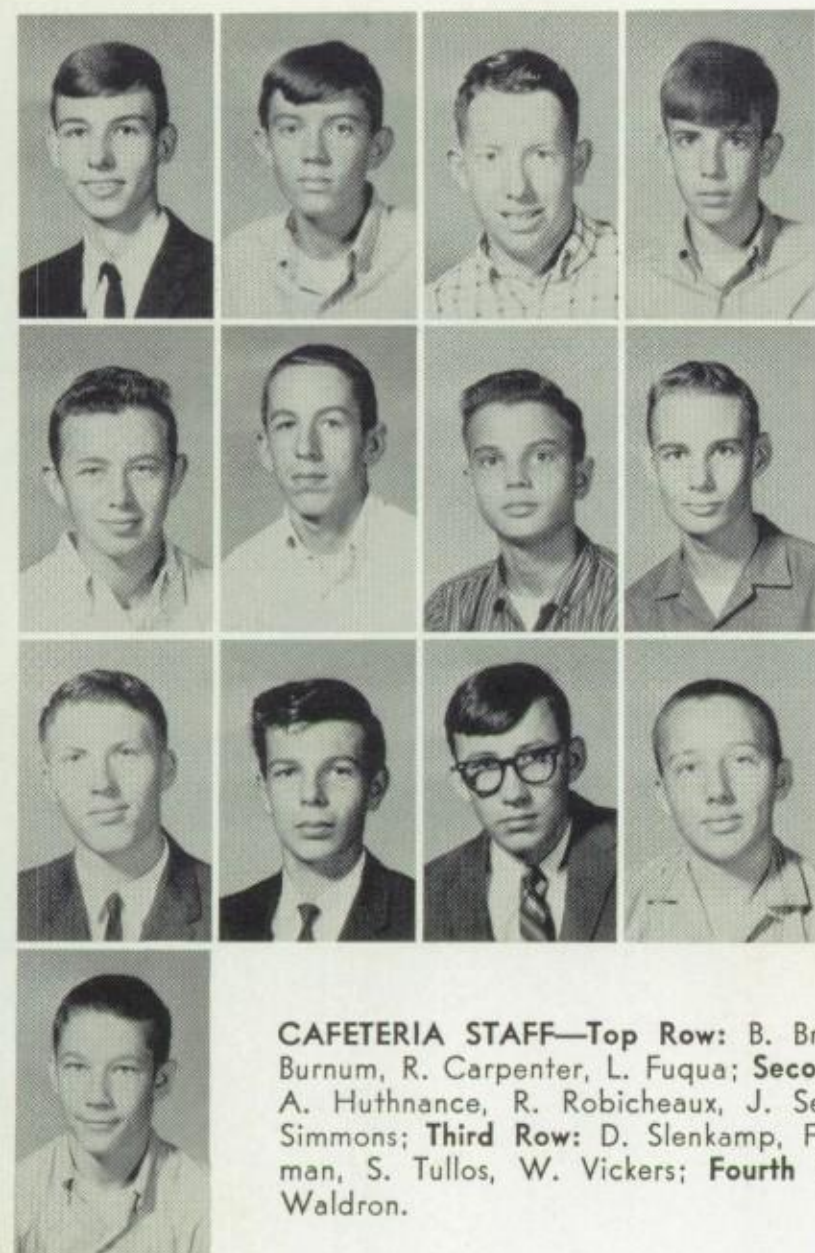

Bolton's Concession Staff performs an important job of selling cold drinks and refreshments at basketball games.

CONCESSION STAFF—Top Row: R. Archer, R. Asley, C. Barth, D. Burns; Second Row: J. Holcomb, R. Howton, A. Huthnance, C. McDonald; Third Row: B. Ozier, J. Safcik, F. Sweetman, H. Vanderford.

Bolton's canteen provides assorted supplies to students during all three lunch shifts. The needs of students during the rush hour are quickly met under the able direction of Mr. Fitzgerald.

Under the supervision of Mr. Taylor, the concession staff labors to offer a source of refreshment to Bolton's enthusiastic fans. At all home football and basketball games, members of this staff sell programs, popcorn, peanuts, and cokes to spectators.

A hard-working cafeteria staff executes the very important job of serving approximately 1600 students during three lunch shifts each day. Jobs include collecting plates, cleaning tables, and collecting money as well as serving the hungry members of Bolton's student body.

To keep the line moving smoothly is one of the primary concerns of the lunch-room staff as they serve food quickly and efficiently.

Students pour into the lunchroom each day, anticipating their noon-day meal.

The people are looking in various directions, some towards the camera and others away. The background is dark and indistinct, suggesting an outdoor setting at night or in a large hall. The overall tone is candid and historical.

Bolton Compiles Winning 6-5 Record

'64 SCOREBOARD

	Bolton	Opponents
Ouachita .....	28	7
West Monroe .....	26	0
Baton Rouge .....	7	18
Northside .....	12	6
LaGrange .....	6	21
Byrd .....	0	21
Lafayette .....	20	7
Sulphur .....	0	39
New Iberia .....	12	0
Lake Charles .....	7	14
Pineville .....	19	0

In Bill Jarrell's first year as head coach, Bolton posted a winning season, recording 6 wins against 5 defeats. Ouachita and West Monroe fell to the Blue and White by large margins on the team's first two outings. Returning home, the Bruins found the Baton Rouge Bulldogs a little too much to handle and were defeated 18-7; but less than a week later they rebounded with a 12-6 victory over Northside. The Bears absorbed losses from LaGrange and Byrd before getting back on the winning track against Lafayette 20-7. The following week, however, Sulphur routed the Bruins 39-0. Homecoming returned the Bears to the win column with a victory, in the rain, over New Iberia 12-0. Lake Charles defeated Bolton 14-7, setting the stage for the season's finale. Inaugurating the new rivalry with Pineville by scoring an impressive 19-0 win, Bolton brought the long season to a successful close.

Six victories in itself is not outstanding, but to the 1964 Bolton football team it represents a year of hard work. With only twenty-nine varsity athletes and six returning lettermen, the pre-season forecasts placed the Bears near the district cellar. Such predictions failed to daunt the inexperienced Bruins. By dedication and sacrifice of both coaches and players, the team was molded into that type of representative of which Bolton can be proud. Combining 110% effort with average ability, the Bears proved again the importance of desire in winning football.

In addition to the fine team performance, several seniors gained special recognition. Bill Holland was chosen as an offensive guard on the All-District team. Team Captain Robert Ryder was selected for the first team of the All-District and All-State teams. Receiving the honor of the team's most valuable player was Rickey Taylor, senior halfback.

Since the season has ended, it is quite natural to look ahead. With 15 lettermen returning and good potential from the junior varsity, the future looks bright, and hopes are high for an even more successful season.

Bolton 28
Ouachita 7

September 11

In the season opener with Ouachita High School, Bolton scored a convincing 28-7 victory. Paced by Rickey Taylor's 70 yards in eleven carries, the Bears simply outclassed the home team. A sturdy defense and a determined offense combined to score four touchdowns and stymie Ouachita until the game was decided.

Bolton scored first on a 5-yard burst by Taylor. In the second quarter reserve halfback Eddie Price dashed around right end for the second tally. Derald Smith put the game out of reach by returning the kickoff 88 yards for the third touchdown. The final score came late in the fourth quarter on a 12-yard pass from quarterback Ken Murchison to Buck Doiron. Mike Lacaze added all four extra points.

Ouachita's lone tally came after the outcome had been determined. After a fine goal stand, Bolton fumbled and Ouachita recovered on the three yard line. On fourth down Dick McNair went over for the touchdown and Skeeter Boyd added the point after.

The statistics supported the game's final score as the Bears led in first downs 9-8, rushing yardage 183-135, passing yardage 30-26, and total offense 215-161. In addition to backs Taylor and Smith, exceptional performances were turned in by linemen Robert Ryder, Bill Holland, and Jimmy Walker.

Dropping back to pass behind good line protection is Ken Murchison.

Bolton 26
West Monroe 0

September 18

Entering the game a decided underdog, the Bears surprised almost everyone, including the West Monroe Rebels with an impressive 26-0 upset. A strong passing game carried Bolton to victory despite West Monroe's rugged defense on the ground. Until intermission the game was close, but the Bruins broke it open with three touchdowns in the final two periods.

Buck Doiron opened the scoring in the first period on a 20-yard pass from Ken Murchison. The extra point was no good. In the third period Bolton took a 13-0 lead on another Murchison-to-Doiron pass and Mike LaCaze's PAT. Murchison then chose to throw to end Wayne Cespiva who took the five yard pass for the third touchdown. Dennis Hartbarger scored the final touchdown on a 50-yard run back of an intercepted pass. After converting for the extra point, the score read 26-0.

Bolton's stingy defense completely bottled up the West Monroe attack, allowing them their longest gain of only 8 yards on the ground and intercepting two pass attempts.

Though this victory was a true team effort, the offensive sparkle of Massey Gaar, Ken Murchison, and Buck Doiron, and the impressive defensive play of Jimmy Stevenson deserve definite mention.

Bolton 7
Baton Rouge 18

September 25

A strong second half comeback by the eventual state champions, Baton Rouge High, ended Bolton's win streak at two. The Bears dominated the first two stanzas and left for halftime with a 7-6 lead. During the halftime break, Baton Rouge regrouped and settled down to the task of scoring in each of the final periods for an 18-7 victory.

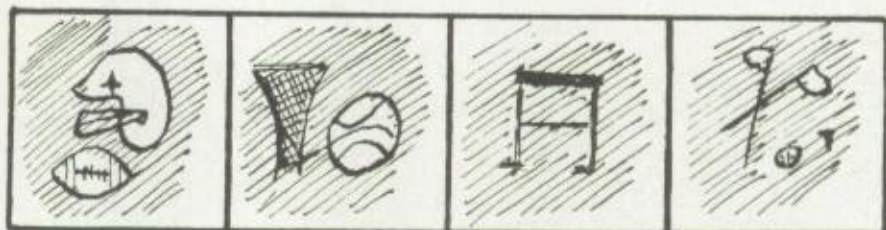

After receiving the opening kickoff, Bolton drove 77 yards for the first score of the game. The Bears used 14 plays in this drive and climaxed it with a two yard pass from Murchison to Doiron for the touchdown, with Mike LaCaze scoring the extra point. Having been scored on for the first time, the Baton Rouge defense rallied to contain the Bruins for the remainder of the game.

George Bevan tallied Baton Rouge's first touchdown on a 48-yard run from scrimmage in the second period. The Bulldogs scored two more times in the second half, once on a 33-yard pass from Joe Womack to Russell Marino and once on a 2-yard plunge by Bevan. All three extra points failed.

Though defeated, the Bears refused to give up and played well until the final whistle. Even in defeat the efforts of halfback Rickey Taylor, center Travis Stokes, tackle J. J. Michiels, and end Jimmy Winn deserve commendation.

A fourth quarter pass is complete as Rickey Taylor makes a beautiful catch.

Finding himself in an unusual position during gametime, Robert Ryder catches his breath before going back into action.

Bolton 6 LaGrange 21

October 9

Despite a determined team effort, Bolton suffered its second loss of the season at the hands of the LaGrange Gators. Though outsized, the Bears refused to give up. They gave the bigger Gators a real battle before bowing out 21-6.

LaGrange's massive line was able to stop the Bears on the ground, but not in the air. The Bears were able to gain only seven yards rushing, but managed 214 yards through the air. A Murchison to Taylor aerial, good for 27 yards, produced Bolton's only touchdown. Mike LaCaze's try for PAT was wide.

The Gators scored three touchdowns en route to victory. The first came on an 8-yard pass from Greg Dupin to Pat Diamond. In the fourth quarter LaGrange scored twice—once on a 32-yard run by Albert Doucet and once on a 92-yard return of an intercepted pass by Ray Cole. Tommy LeBlanc added all three extra points.

It was a good team performance in spite of the loss. Everyone played well, and no one individual could be singled out. However, the exceptional play of halfback Rickey Taylor, tackle Jimbo Galloway, and end Wayne Cespiva is worthy of special mention.

Bolton 12 Northside 6

October 1

Rebounding from the previous week's defeat, the Bears came out ahead of the Northside Vikings. When their offense stalled, the Bruins relied on defense to preserve the 12-6 win. The game was in doubt until the final seconds when Rickey Taylor intercepted a pass at the goal line ending the last Northside threat.

In the first period Bolton broke into the scoring column when Massey Gaar drove nine yards for the tally. Offensively inept for the remainder of the half, the Bruins were unable to muster another serious threat. Taylor registered the second touchdown in the third period on a 14-yard run. Both extra point attempts failed.

Northside scored on a fifteen-yard pass from John Erny to Jack Pennington. The try for the point after was unsuccessful. A stubborn defense stopped the Vikings for the rest of the game and insured the victory when Taylor made his interception with three minutes remaining in the game. The Bear offense then took over and ran out the clock.

Statistics gave the Bears a bigger edge than the final score. Bolton led in first downs 13-10 and in total yardage 232-141. Massey Gaar, Derald Smith, and Jack Gaar led the Bears on offense while Robert Ryder and Dennis Hartbarger shone defensively.

Jimmy Winn and J. J. Michiels come in to help teammates bring down a LaGrange back.

Bears Rush For 1404 Yards . . .

As Massey Gaar clears the way, Jack Gaar circles left end for a six-yard gain.

Bolton 0
Byrd 21

October 16

Depth was the vital factor in Byrd's 21-0 victory over the Bears. Bolton played the Yellow Jackets on even terms until Byrd scored its first touchdown with eleven seconds left in the first half. In the second half it was all Byrd as the Shreveport team added two more tallies.

Bolton was unable to generate any real offense, managing only 90 yards in total offense. Soon after intermission, Bolton made its only threat. The drive started off well but stalled in the wake of Byrd's alert defense.

Held in check for nearly a half, Byrd got on the scoreboard when quarterback Gene Hunt dashed 35 yards for a score. In the fourth period, the Yellow Jackets pushed across two touchdowns on a 9-yard run by Roby Odom and an 8-yard run by Joe Walker. Russ Neely made good all three extra points.

This game was not one of Bolton's better performances. However, the determined effort of several players stood out. Robert Ryder and Derald Smith, until a knee injury forced his departure from the game, were especially impressive on defense.

Bolton 20
Lafayette 7

October 23

Dudley Williamson made his varsity debut in a big way by leading the Bears to a 20-7 victory over Lafayette. In his first start, the sophomore paced the Bears in 78 yards rushing. He scored all three touchdowns for the Blue and White as well.

Bolton was held scoreless for three periods but broke loose in the fourth quarter. Williamson went over from the one for the initial touchdown. After Rickey Taylor intercepted a pass, Williamson added the second score. The third touchdown came on a 14-yard keeper by Williamson. Two extra point attempts were good.

Except for a nine-yard scoring pass from Phil Dismukes to Jim Chappell, a rock-line defense stopped Lafayette cold. The Bear defensive unit limited the Lions to 4 first downs and 109 yards in total offense.

Though Williamson was outstanding, the victory belonged to the team. Massey Gaar looked good on offense and the entire defensive team harassed the Lafayette offense.

Two Bear defense standouts, Wayne Cespiva and Jimmy Walker, converge to bring down a Lafayette back.

Buck Doiron hauls in another pass for a nice gain.

Bolton 0
Sulphur 39

October 30

It was just not the Bears' night as they absorbed a 39-0 shellacking by the Sulphur Golden Tornadoes. The Tors scored in every period completely outclassing the smaller and less experienced Bruins. For Bolton, nothing went right, and it was one of those games everyone hopes to forget.

On offense Bears were able to generate only one threat. That one was stopped at the Sulphur 5-yard line when the clock ran out ending the game. Except for the one drive, Bolton got into Sulphur territory only once, reaching the 37 on a penalty.

Fullback D. L. Martine led Sulphur in scoring with three touchdowns. A 12-yard dash by Wayne Stroddard accounted for another. The other two came on passes, a 17-yarder from Roger LeDoux to Ken McElroy and a 7-yarder from Jep Black to Bradley Thompson. Three of the six extra point attempts were good.

There were few happy faces after the rout. But tackle Robert Ryder and fullback Malcolm Nall could be proud of the performances even in such a loss.

Bolton 12
New Iberia 0

November 6

A driving rain spoiled Homecoming ceremonies, but the Bruins managed to score twice in the first half and hold on for a 12-0 victory over New Iberia. In the first half Bolton seemed unbothered by the downpour. The rain increased during intermission, however, and the field was a sea of mud throughout the second half.

Bolton wasted no time in scoring. The second time the Bruins got the ball they drove 66 yards for the tally. Rickey Taylor raced the final six yards on a sweep around left end. Buck Doiron hauled in a touchdown pass from quarterback Ken Murchison in the second period to round out the scoring. The muddy field spoiled Mike LaCaze's timing on both extra point attempts.

Defensively, it was Bolton's best game of the year. The Bears held New Iberia to a minus 7 yards rushing and only allowed the Yellow Jackets one first down. In fact, a last second pass was the only thing that kept New Iberia from having a minus total yardage count.

Several offensive players turned in good games. It was defense, however, that stole the show. Middle guard Charles Ates, end Clyde Cedars, and linebacker Jimmy Stevenson led the aggressive defense.

An opposing halfback is nailed down by Gene Hernandez as Ed Collins closes in to lend assistance.

Win Over Pineville Climaxes Season

Bolton 7
Lake Charles 14

November 13

After leading at intermission 7-0, Bolton could not stand the second half surge by Lake Charles and fell victim to the Wildcats, 14-7. Two third period touchdowns put the Wildcats ahead and Bolton was never able to catch up. The loss evened the Bears' season mark at 5-5. It eliminated any chance of Bolton reaching the playoffs and focused attention on next week's game with Pineville.

The lone touchdown for the Bruins came in the second quarter on a 1-yard sneak by Ken Murchison. The score climaxed a 52-yard drive. Mike LaCaze added the PAT. The only other drive Bolton mustered came late in the fourth period. After a touchdown pass to Jim Winn was called back, Lake Charles took over the ball on downs.

Paced by all-state candidates, Mark Lumpkin and Buz Clark, Lake Charles was not to be denied in the third stanza. The Bolton defense finally gave way to hard-hitting power plays. Clark scored first on a 58-yard run early in the period. Quarterback Lumpkin finished the job on a 14-yard keeper just moments later. Lumpkin added both extra points, making the score 14-7.

Bill Holland did a fine job on the offensive line despite the loss. The Bear defensive charge was led by Jimbo Galloway and Wayne Cespiva. Several other Bruins performed well, especially in the first half.

Cornerback Clyde Cedars comes up to nail an opponent for a short gain.

Dudley Williamson sprints around left end as Bill Holland pulls out to lead interference

In the first meeting of the crosstown rivals in eight years, Bolton emerged victorious over the Pineville Rebels 19-0.

A stunting defense by the Rebels kept Bolton in a hole throughout the first half. The Bears could not manage a single first down. At the start of the third quarter, Bolton began to roll when Ken Murchison found Rickey Taylor all alone in the end zone after Wayne Cespiva recovered a Pineville fumble on the 23. Mike LaCaze added the extra point and Bolton was ahead for good. The Bears quickly added another in the same period. This time it was Murchison sprinting to his right, keeping, and going in for the score. Jim Winn closed the scoring on a 12-yard pass play from Murchison and the Bears were 19-0 victors.

A tenacious defense refused to yield an inch in the second half. Though the Rebels moved the ball well early, they were never able to push across a score. Defense kept Bolton in the game during the first half and set up the first score on a fumble recovery.

This victory was a triumph that belonged to the whole school. Everyone did his part: the boys played their hearts out, the coaches prepared the team well, and the student body gave that spirit so necessary for a winning effort. Thus the revolving trophy set up for the series spends its first year in Bolton's trophy case. This trophy symbolizes a great victory—a victory each Bolton student can be proud of.

If the victory belonged to anyone, it belonged to the senior athletes. All of them gave a 110 effort and it would be wrong to single out any one for special praise. Each one did his very best to give Bolton a triumph that would be remembered for many years to come.

Out of action with an injured leg, Massey Gaar is forced to watch the game from the sidelines.

Dudley Williamson is pulled down after a short gain in a junior varsity game.

Junior Varsity

The 3-6 record does not indicate the success of Bolton's "B" Team. Under the guidance of Coaches Morris and Skelton, the junior varsity gridgers received valuable experience. Composed entirely of sophomores, the team started slowly. By the end of the year, however, the boys had been molded into fine representatives of Bolton athletics. Especially impressive was the dogged determination and spirit the boys showed, win or lose. This year's sophomores were a group with much potential, and a great deal is expected from them in the future.

Several sophomores saw varsity as well as junior varsity action. Quarterback Dudley Williamson started several varsity games while Bill Hare and Larry Ramo also saw some duty. In addition, many more boys showed varsity potential for next year. Almost every player, in fact, showed the results of maturing as a ball player.

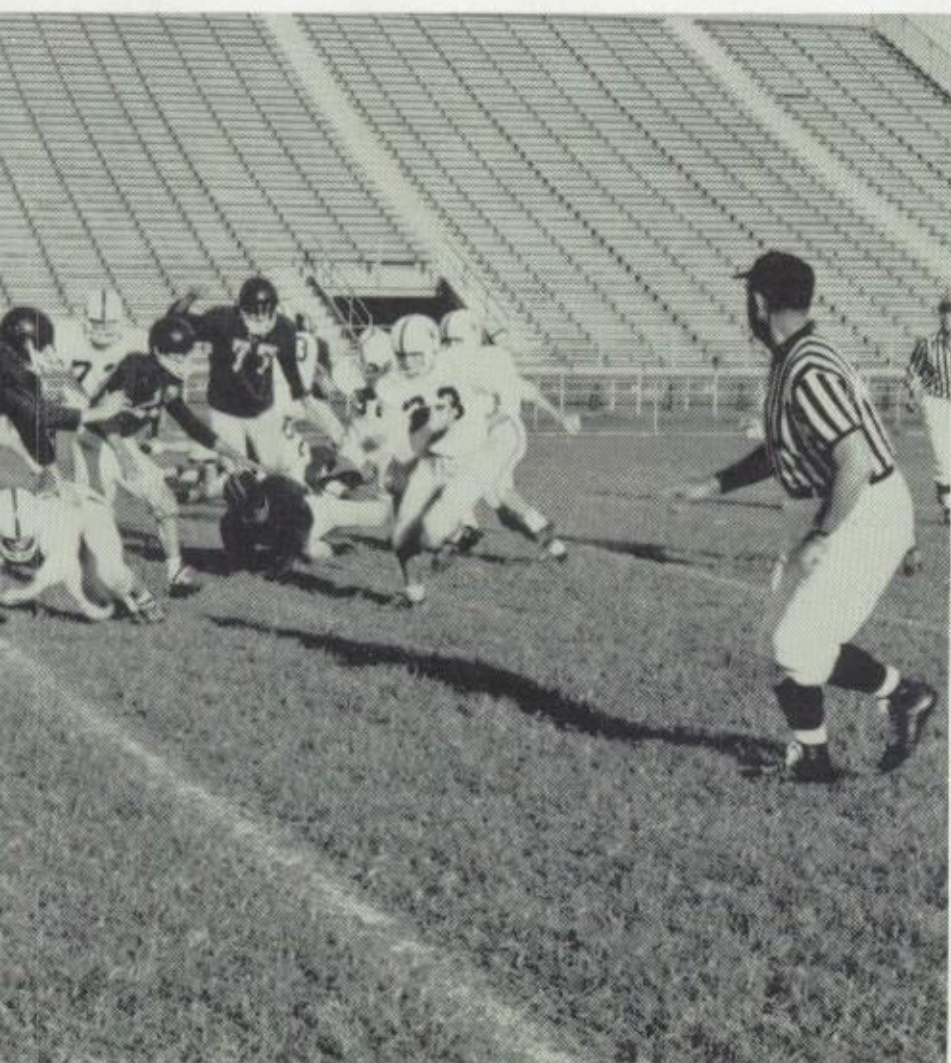

In examining the season, one could best describe it as one of preparation. The coaches were not as interested in a season record as they were in getting the players ready for varsity action next year. They were not as interested in developing individual stars as they were in teaching the basic principles of teamwork. The season seems to have been a success in this way. The boys progressed a long way, and with more hard work in the off-season, there should be a fine nucleus for next year's varsity team.

Coach Morris closely observes the progress of a play while Duke Duchesne prepares to enter the game.

Bolton enjoyed its best season since joining AAA ranks as the 1964 team compiled a 25-6 regular season mark. The addition of four transfers and a new coach, Bill Morris, combined to give the 1964-65 team an all new look. Three returning lettermen gave the Bruins a nucleus to build around. Several squadmen from last year and a reserve list gave the team much needed depth.

Aggressive rebounding proved to be a big factor in the team's success. The front line featured good height in center 6'5" Bob Rasmussen and forwards 6'3" Buck Doiron and 6'4" Robbie Lowther along with reserve 6'2" Jock Scott. In the back court the Bears showed good shooting ability and excellent ball handling. Harold Chambers, high-scoring senior guard, held down one slot while Jeff Thorkelson, Duke Duchesne, and Ken Murchison alternated at the other. A talented bench included Billy Andrews, Trellis Massie, Jimmy Looper, and Lacy Shaw. Each boy played an important part in the successful season the team enjoyed. Even more important than natural ability was the refusal to give up even when things were not going well. Sound coaching, accurate shooting, aggressive rebounding, and determination—all combined in producing Bolton's most successful season in many years.

Equally impressive was the Junior Varsity team. The "B" Team came out first in their portion of the district standing with a 13-1 record. Juniors Bobby Schmolke, Paul Piazza, and Dennis Hartbarger and sophomore Carlton Walding led the team both in rebounding and scoring throughout the entire season.

Bears Triumph In State Meet

Nearly fifty years elapsed between Bolton's first and second state championships, but the 1964 track team added a third less than a month after the second. At the state meet in Baton Rouge, the Bears gave their best performance of the season. The team had qualified eight men and each one gave a supreme effort to bring the crown back to Alexandria.

This year proved to be a highly successful one for the Bruins. In all but five of the meets they entered, they emerged victorious and in those five they brought back second place. Perhaps the most exciting meet of the season was the District 2-AAA meet in Lafayette. Bolton finally won by a single point although the outcome was in doubt until the final event.

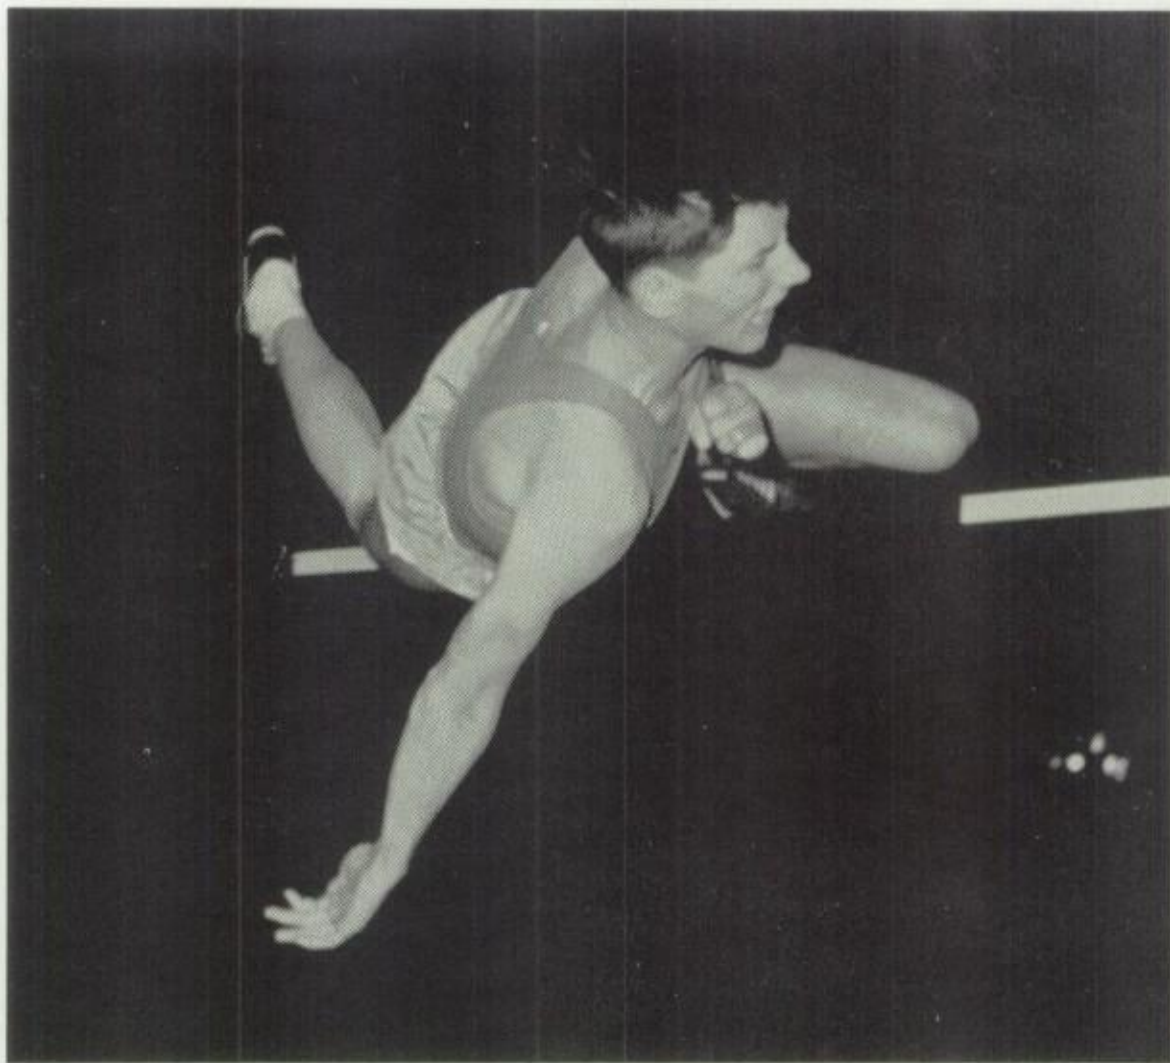

Five events were dominated by the Bears in nearly every meet throughout the year. In the 100-yard dash Richard Golmon twice recorded the fine time of 9.9 seconds during the season and raced to many victories in the 220 as well. Hurdlers Bo Rosenthal and Gray Easterling consistently captured their specialty and set several records in the event. Roger Shaw gave the Bears depth in the high jump where he regularly cleared 6 feet. The 440 and 880 relay teams added many clinching points during the season. Also, the mile relay team gave brilliant efforts time after time to give Bolton come-from-behind victories. With most of these individuals gone, Bolton's track team faces a hard task in 1965 replacing those lost.

Jay Collier speeds in for another victory in the mile relay.

Roger Shaw sets a new high jump record by utilizing the western roll.

Richard Golman sprints in ahead of the pack for an easy victory in the 100-yard dash.

Running Events Provide Source Of Strength

Bo Rosenthal throws himself forward for a record leap in the broad jump.

Bolton trackmen Bo Rosenthal and Gray Easterling clear the hurdles in the 120-yard highs.

Sonny Johnson pushes himself over to easily clear a new height.

Relay Teams Consistently Place High

John Couvillion and Ken Williamson, Bolton's star milers, capture second and first places respectively in a home meet.

Chuck Tidwell hands off to sprinter Albert Shirley going into the third leg of the 880-yard relay.

Darrell Arnold displays excellent form as he tries for greater distance in the shot put.

Gray Easterling shoots out of the blocks for the start of the 440-yard relay.

With a mighty heave, Johnny Norman spins the discus into the air for another victory.

A happy Bolton track team carries the coaches from the field after winning the district meet.

1964 GOLF TEAM—Standing: Rusty Casey, Robbie Lowther, Chris Baird, Andy Gambordella; Bottom Row: Frank Brame, Joe Bracato, Jimmy Slocum, Ronny Wilkins.

1964 GOLF TEAM SCHEDULE

1. Beaumont: 7th place out of 28
Casey 76, Wilkins 81, Slocum 82, Brame 88
2. Lafayette: 1st place out of 19
Wilkins 71, Casey 77, Lowther 78, Slocum 79
3. Bastrop: 3rd place out of 9 (27 holes)
Lowther 121, Slocum 121, Casey 123, Wilkins 125
4. Natchitoches: Won dual match
Wilkins 72, Lowther 77, Casey 78, Brame 81
5. Sulphur: 1st place out of 8
Lowther 77, Casey 77, Wilkins 79, Brame 81
6. Bolton Invitational: 1st place out of 8 (27 holes).
Wilkins 114, Casey 115, Lowther 115, Brame 118
7. State High School Tourney: 1st place out of 33 (36 holes)
Lowther 148, Brame 150, Casey 153, Wilkins 153

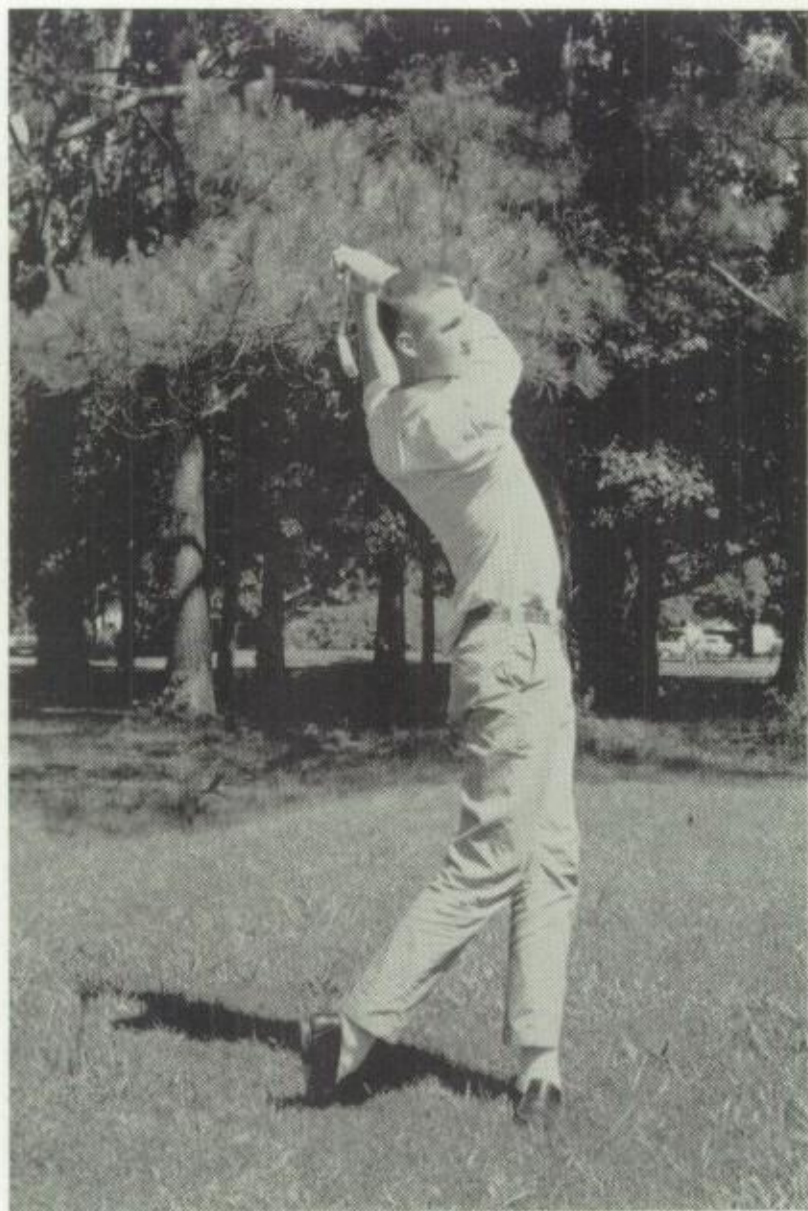

Bolton captured its first state championship in nearly fifty years as the golf team won the state meet in Baton Rouge by two strokes. The Bears won the title by shooting a combined team score of 604. Although the Bruins had no one among the individual leaders, team balance provided the margin of victory. Robbie Lowther led the team with 148 for thirty-six holes, eight strokes off the pace; but none of the other three was more than five strokes behind him. In addition to the state tournament, Bolton placed high in all tournaments they entered.

With all four participants in the state meet returning, the Bears should enjoy another successful year in 1965. The first team, composed of juniors Ronny Wilkins and Rusty Casey and sophomores Robbie Lowther and Frank Brame, featured in consistent play rather than depending on one individual star. A strong second team gave valuable experience and kept the first team members working to hold their positions. Seniors Chris Baird, Jimmy Slocum, and Andy Gambordella along with junior Joe Bracato comprised the second team.

Robbie Lowther follows through after driving to the green.

Ronny Wilkins prepares for a shot out of the rough.

Jimmy Slocum contemplates his approach shot.

Chris Baird watches the flight of his ball after blasting from a sand trap.

Entire State Team Returns For Another Season

Frank Brame tees off before going into a second round.

Rusty Casey chips out of the rough and onto the green.

Swinging into an approach shot, Andy Gambordella views his objective.

Joe Brocato smiles happily as his ball rolls in after a difficult putt.

Tennis Team Earns Third Place At State

Returning members of the 1964 TENNIS TEAM—Jock Scott, Pat Kelsey, Neill Foote, Lacy Shaw. Missing is Fran Hancock.

Jock Scott starts a match with a smashing serve to the far court.

Bolton's 1964 Tennis team rounded out a successful season with a third place finish in the state tournament. During the season the team won six dual meets bringing their regular season consecutive win streak to eighteen. The Bear netters scored victories over some of the best teams in the state. With four players of near equal ability, the Bruins used depth to good advantage especially in close matches.

In the state tournament, however, it was a different story. The state meet is scored on a system designed to aid teams with individual standouts and team balance could not help Bolton here. Nonetheless, Pat Kelsey reached the finals in girls' singles, Danny Sullivan won his first match in boys' singles, and Fran Hancock and Neill Foote advanced to the semi-finals in girls' doubles. These victories enabled Bolton to place third in final team standings.

Pat Kelsey returns a cross-court volley with a strong forehand shot.

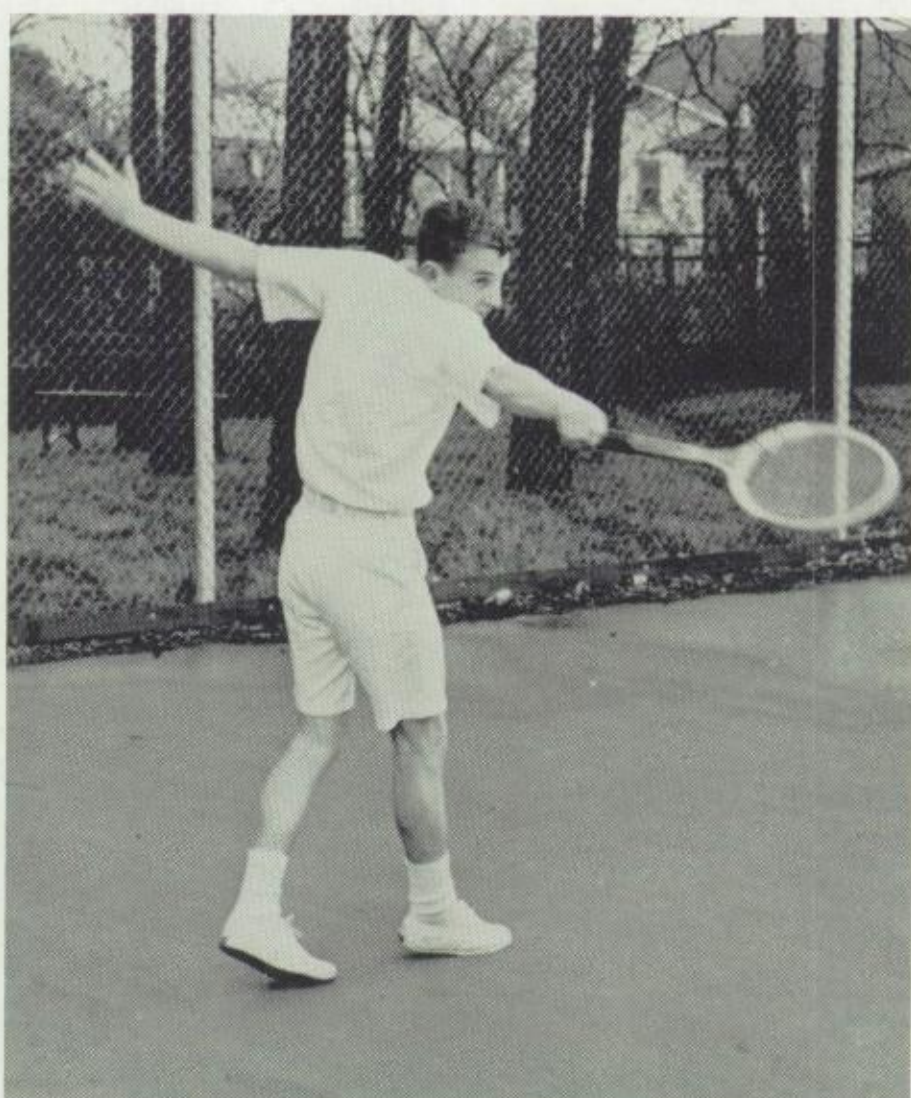

The 1964 Tennis Team coaches are Miss Alice Kelley and Coach Tommy Smith.

Neill Foote follows through after a strong serve to the net.

Lacy Shaw displays a good backhand as he returns a back-court volley.

Boosters Sponsor Annual Projects

A dance act is given by Nancy Lyons and Jane Mertens, two junior boosters.

Allen Roark, Mike Sale, and Steve Lymberis provide singing for the Booster Talent Show.

The traditional senior circle is always found at the Sock Hop and was no exception this year.

Boosters select Bo Rougeou as "Booster Beau," and Cathy Schultz as "Ideal Booster."

Cathy Anastasio and Mary Middleton join together to produce a funny act on the program.

Queen's Selection Climaxes Homecoming Plans

Bruce Manning applies the finishing touches to the Homecoming football program—one of five he designed for the home games.

Arranged in royal array with Queen Penny Stewart is the Homecoming Court of 1964.

Homecoming Queen, Penny Stewart, receives the traditional bouquet from Booster President Paula Randolph.

After receiving her long stemmed roses, Penny Stewart is overcome with emotion.

The evening is complete as Mr. Pate crowns Penny Stewart Homecoming Queen of 1964.

Musical Productions Require Long Rehearsals

Bolton's halls are filled with music as the choir begins caroling during the Christmas season.

Mr. Clayton leads the choir in rehearsal for one of its many popular performances.

Bolton's Chorale, renowned throughout Louisiana, practices on the auditorium stage.

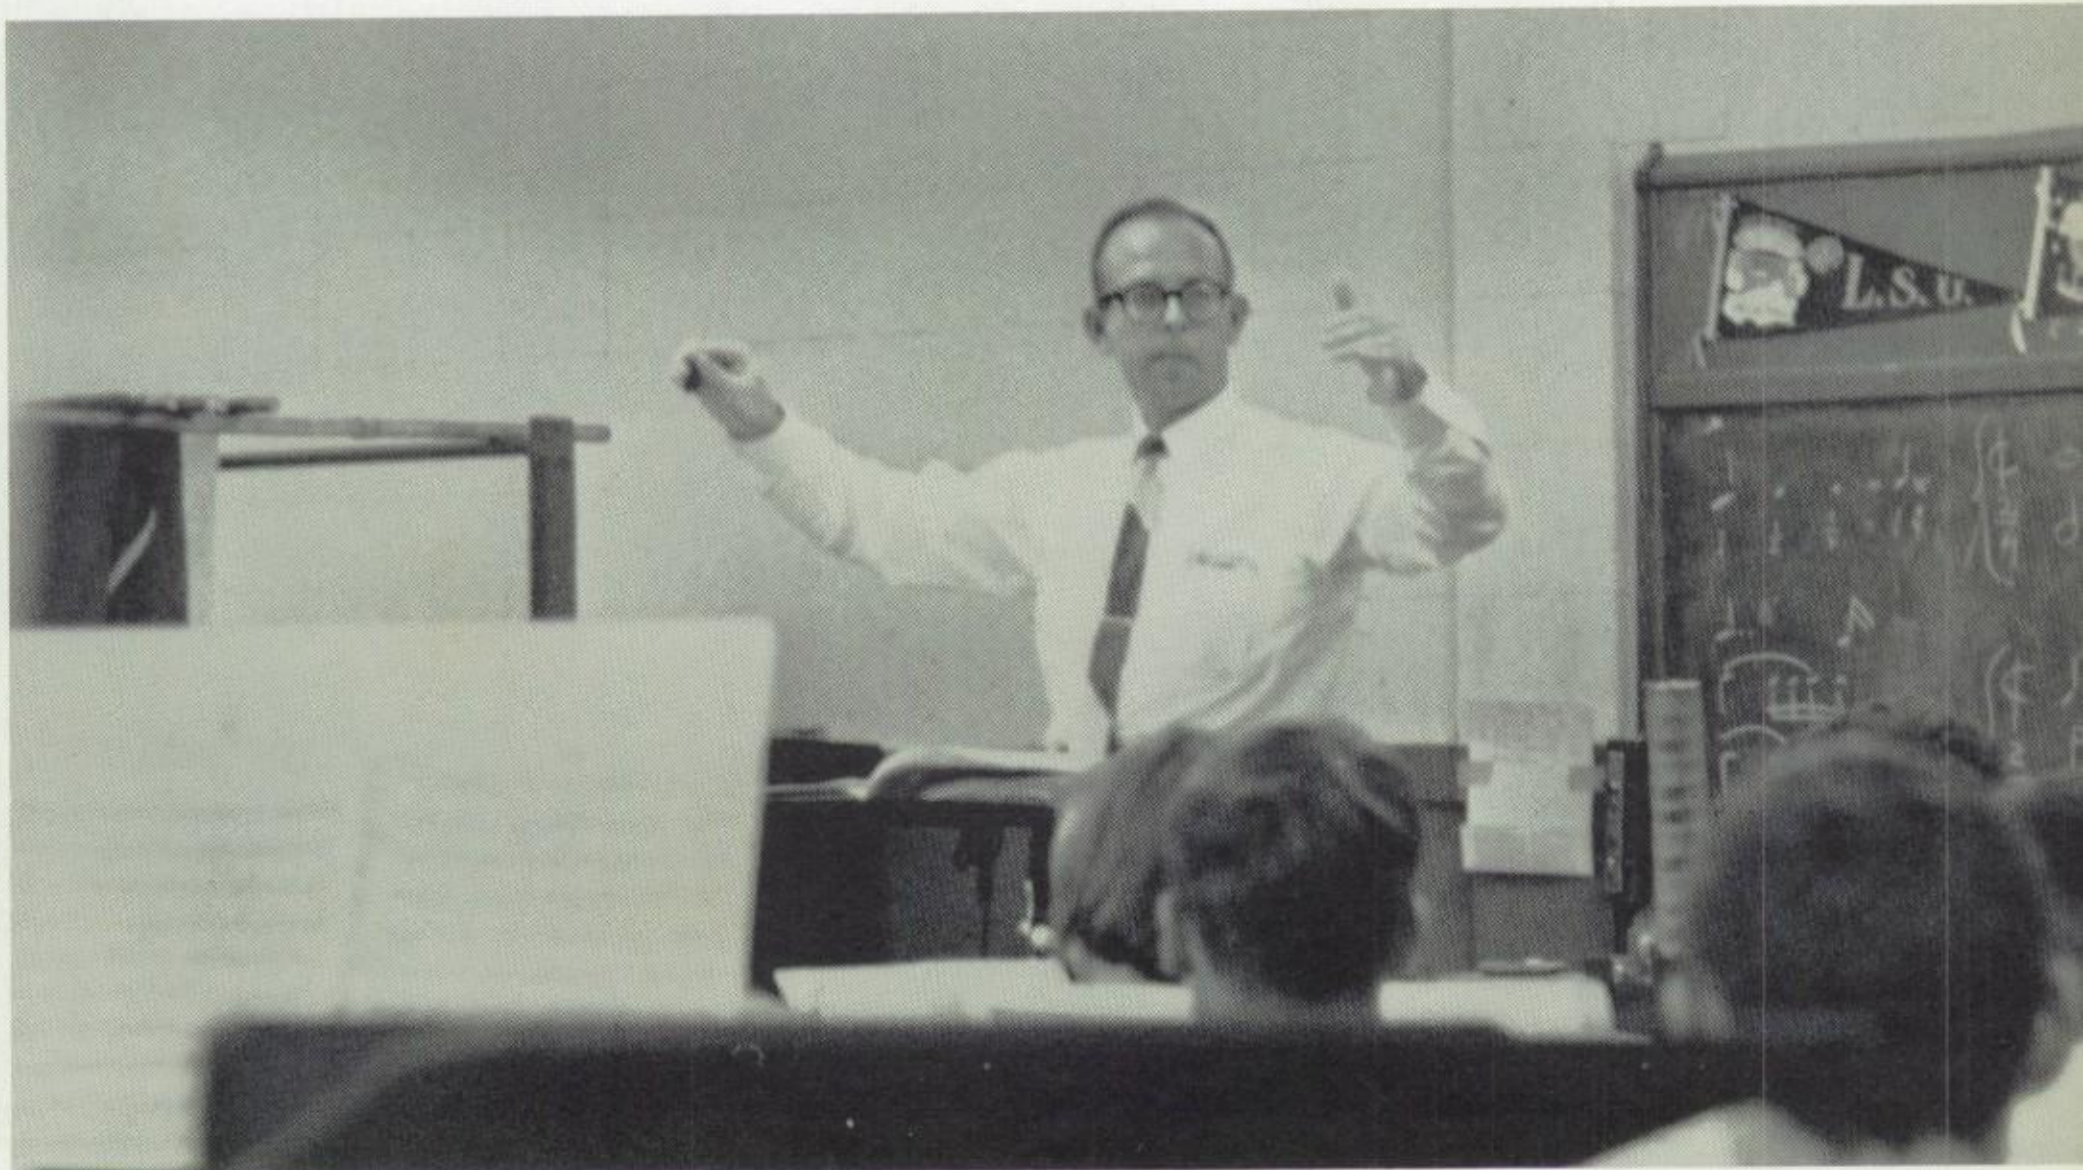

Mr. Clayton keeps the choir working hard to hit that certain pitch.

The Band engages in long practice sessions as the concert season nears.

Mr. Clark, Band Director, gains the desired response from his direction of the capable Bolton Band.

James E. Clark

Key Club Presents Banquet, Sweetheart Dance

The music of John Fred and the Playboys highlights the annual Key Club Sweetheart Dance.

Key Club Sweetheart, Mary Jane Simmons, receives the traditional kiss and roses from Club President Bud Gahagan.

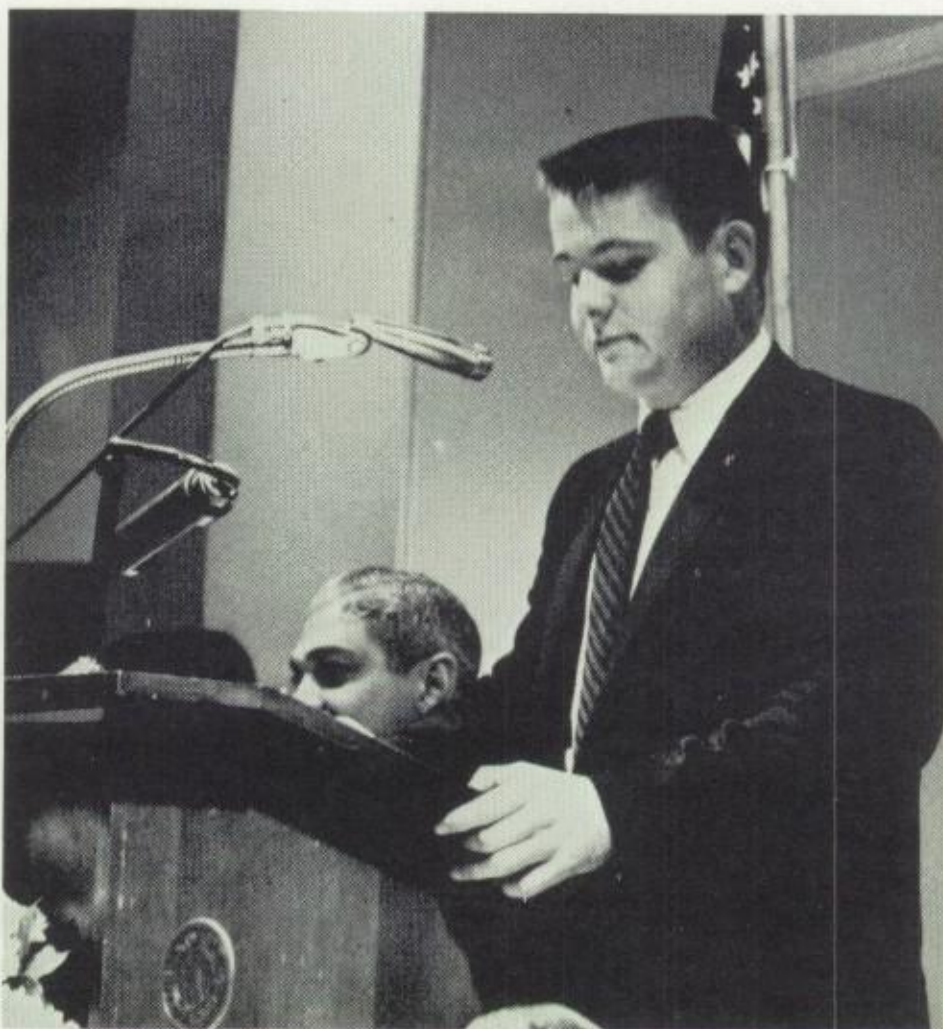

Shown with gifts from the Key Club is the 1965 Key Club Sweetheart Court, Judy Pardue, Joann Craig, Martha Bolton, Mary Jane Simmons, and Paula Randolph.

The Tri-Lighters entertain at the Leadership Banquet.

Bud Gahagan, Key Club President, serves as M.C. for the annual Banquet.

An informative and challenging talk was presented by Judge Edmund Reggie of Crowley.

Students Participate In Total School Program

The bottom of the escalator is a favorite resting spot before school opens.

One of the best liked phases of the boys' gym program is the swimming at City Park Pool.

Gene Fendler looks at forest specimen in the lab while Mac Fitzsommons arranges slides.

Girls receive instructions before beginning gym period.

Service Staffs Meet School Needs

Mrs. Voda, assistant to Mrs. David, is in charge of the preparation and serving of the daily meals.

Walter displays the mop and water pail symbolic of his work around the gym.

Bolton's janitorial staff keeps the school clean, neat, and running smoothly.

The lunchroom staff serves and prepares meals for Bolton students and faculty.

The primary purpose of any school is the maintaining of high academic standards and Bolton is no exception. Though it often seems that extracurricular activities have taken precedence, classwork and study remain the core around which all other phases of the school program are built. For this reason Bruin presents those students who rank in the top ten per cent of the senior class.

These students represent a deserving group who through diligent study have attained a mark of academic excellence. Out of a class of 450 only forty-three can reach this point of distinction. Arranged in their rank as of January 25, 1965, these students stand in distinction as the very top of Bolton's most important activity.

Editors Will Never Forget Bruin '65

Phoebe Herrick finds her work is nearly over as a member of Bruin Business Staff as the last deadline is met.

Mr. Pate and Mrs. Spofford look through Bruins that have been kept over the years.

Members of next year's Bruin Staff, nearing this year's end, begin to gather material for the forty-first edition of the Bruin while the past record of Bolton lies spread before them.

Wilburn Smith and Susie Stephens find a funny mistake as they retype layouts.

The mid point of the soaring 60's brought a new look to Bolton. When school opened students came from all over the nation and the world—a result of the addition of a wing at England Air Force Base. The 1964-65 school year brought new styles in clothing too. Shoulder bags, Wee-geens, and straight hair were vogue for girls. Boys in step with the times turned to parkas, blazers, and striped ties. Boys' hair took a turn for the longer with the beatle mop. There were other changes in the student body. A new revival of school spirit swept the school. As student enthusiasm rose, sports victories increased. The Pineville football game brought a new height in school pride and spirit as well as a hard earned victory in the inaugural of the rivalry. 1964-65 was a year of newness—a year characterized by new students, parkas, wee-geens, beatle haircuts, and school pride.

1964-65 was also a year of change. With the death of two great world leaders, Herbert Hoover and Winston Churchill, the world saw the end of an age—the Age of Statesmen. But just as this year brought the end of an era, it ushered in a new age—the Age of Progress. Man approaches the threshold of attainment on all frontiers. Space travel is just a step away from reaching the moon. Medicine is but an experiment away from curing many long feared illnesses. Transportation is improving rapidly with newer and faster planes. Telstar seems to be but the beginning of a whole new field in communications.

The wheels of progress are turning around Bolton as the school embarks on an extensive renovation plan. Not only is the school curriculum continually moving ahead, the physical plant is being enlarged as well. A larger lunchroom, an air conditioned auditorium, and a new gymnasium keep Bolton abreast of the needs of this new era. We are fortunate to live in such a time. The world is changing so fast one can hardly keep up with the new developments. This new age presents a struggle to remain informed, and to use this progress for good.

In the midst of these changes, Bruin of Bolton High School tries to portray the year as the student body remembers it. The greatest problem is to set this school year apart in some way from all others. For 1965, Bruin has chosen to depict school activities by seasons. Winter represents the seeds of knowledge sown by the capable and qualified faculty of whom Bolton is so proud. Spring symbolizes the bright, eager, and alert minds ready to learn through study. Summer offers the student body a chance to grow through extracurricular clubs and organizations. Fall portrays the maturity necessary to meet the challenge of varsity athletics. Finally comes the harvest, recognizing those students most outstanding in their classes and student body for their achievements.

Academic attainment, extracurricular excellence, and student body recognition—these are the achievements Bruin has tried to emphasize in life at Bolton. As we, the students, approach maturity, Bruin has endeavored to provide a permanent record of those elements characteristic of Bolton High School in 1964-65.

Best of luck always, Steve
P.S. Don't forget 7 la in 65.
and your solitary pajama party at the Holiday Inn.

Chris,
You're as bad as me with the grades (and with the punishment. Thanks for the magazine, it degrades
my confidence in myself.
(I don't know what I meant by that) ~~the~~ and thanks for rigging up the D. squad.
Keep drinking - I. T.
Carol
